U.S. Ready to Increase Viet Nam Manpower

3,000 Advisers, Training Personnel Included; 5 More American Servicemen Slain

BY PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist guerrillas killed four American servicemen today as the U.S. government made plans for a boost in its military manpower in South Viet-Nam.

One of the dead was a U.S. Army major, shot to death by a Viet Cong platoon in broad daylight in the middle of a Roman Catholic village 10 miles northwest of Saigon.

Two U.S. Army officers and an Air Force man were killed by a mine set off under their jeep as they drove in a convoy of five vehicles on a road 21 miles south of Saigon.

Increase by 3,000

Up to 3,000 more American military advisers and training personnel may be sent to swell the U.S. force of about 16,250 already in the country.

No extension of the limited combat role of the Americans was in prospect, however.

The South Vietnamese government announced the new buildup Monday after a conference between Premier Nguyen Khanh and U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor.

A U.S. spokesman said the arrival of personnel would be gradual, and the number now planned might be changed as circumstances developed.

"This increase in U.S. aid as well as other aid from friendly countries granted at the request of the Vietnamese government should be construed as a warning to the Communists in Hanoi (the capital of North Viet Nam)," Khanh's government said.

Guerrilla War Experts

"The free world has decided to help the Vietnamese government and Vietnamese people to fight for freedom and independence. Besides, it should not be forgotten that this aid is a demonstration of U.S. determina-

Rockefeller Says Extremism Cause Of Rochester Riots

New York Governor Feels 'Shock and Great Sadness'

BY GENE SCHROEDER

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Violence-ridden Rochester, described by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as a victim of extremism, struggled today to regain a semblance of normalcy from a bloody weekend of race rioting.

With its uneasy peace being enforced by hundreds of helmeted city and state police, the city was paid a surprise visit Monday by the governor.

Rockefeller expressed "shock and great sadness" over what he saw during a tour of the riot-torn Negro sections.

No Link With Others

Declaring that the racial violence was clear evidence of extremism that cannot be justified, Rockefeller said he found no evidence of outside agitators, however.

He said he felt that there was no connection with the race violence which ripped through New York's Harlem and a Negro area of Brooklyn.

The relative quiet in Rochester prompted hopes that some solution could be found to curb the simmering unrest before the week was out.

Troopers Stand By

Worried officials said privately they feared another bloody weekend might erupt when factories closed and thousands of workers were released for their normal days off.

Rochester's racial strife—fomented by thousands of Negroes and some whites—left a tragic toll of four dead, at least 350 injured and millions of dollars in property damage.

Combat-ready National Guardsmen, 1,500 strong, stood by prepared to wield bayonets and rifle butts, if necessary, to preserve law and order.

The guardsmen rolled into Rochester Sunday night on orders from Rockefeller who acted at the request of local officials.

City and state police, backed by firemer with high-pressure hoses, were unable to enforce a dusk-to-dawn curfew Saturday night and Sunday morning.

But a show of force by the troops rumbling through the darkened streets in trucks had a sobering effect on the rampaging, piiaging mobs.

After his tour of the Negro sections—lined with boarded-up store windows shattered by bricks and bottles—Rockefeller conferred for 90 minutes with local officials and officers of the National Guard and state police.

The governor told newsmen later that "the problem now is the preservation of law and order, getting back to rormalcy."

The governor said the guard and the 400-man force of state troopers would be kept on duty "as long as necessary."

"As governor and as a citizen," he declared, "I deplore this kind of violence. This is not the way to achieve progress in a democratic society."

Ranger 7 Starts Toward Moon in Pictures Quest

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Ranger 7 spacecraft was rocketed toward the moon today with the mission of taking several thousand closeup photographs of areas where American astronauts may land in 1969.

An Atlas-Agena rocket blasted into the sky at 11:50 a.m. (EST) to start the spidery spacecraft on a planned quarter-million-mile journey which hopefully will end six years of frustration for U.S. moon shots.

The great rocket, 104 feet tall and weighing 138 tons, spouted a torrent of red-orange flame and sent a thunderous roar rolling across Cape Kennedy as it barreled away from its launching pad.

The early portion of the flight appeared normal as the big booster pitched over on a southeast heading and streaked from sight after about three minutes.

Makarios Turns Down Arms Plan

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—President Makarios has rejected a U.N. request to let the peace force check arms imports by his Greek Cypriots.

The archbishop turned down U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's request Monday before arriving in Athens for talks with Greek Premier George Papandreou. He told newsmen after a three-hour meeting with Greek waders that the two countries have reached an "absolute identity of views."

Asked in what direction the Cyprus dispute was heading, the Greek Cypriot president replied, "Toward enosis," union with Greece.

Dope Peddlers Use Loophole In Federal Law

Narcotics Official Charges Threats to Silence Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal narcotics commissioner Henry L. Girodano charged today that drug peddling mobsters hide behind a loophole in the federal law while using threats of murder in efforts to silence witnesses against them.

In testimony prepared as a leadoff witness in a new Senate probe of the illicit traffic in narcotic drugs, Giordano said federal law now provides no penalty for threatening a potential witness in advance of the formal start of judicial proceedings in which he would testify.

New Legislation Sought

The commissioner appealed to the Senate Investigations subcommittee to back legislation to impose severe penalties on such intimidation tactics. He also endorsed a bill by the subcommittee's chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., which would legalize telephone wire taping by the police but only if authorized by secret court order.

Even without these requested new laws, Giordano said, his worldwide network of undercover agents has been making "substantial progress" in its war on the drug peddling underworld, particularly the traffic in the dangerous narcotic drug heroin.

However, he said, there has been a disturbing rise in the smuggling of addicting cocaine to the United States from Cuba.

Castro Again Assails U.S. but Wants Talks

Promises to Shoot Back if 'Another Man Is Murdered'

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP)—Fidel Castro launched a new attack at the United States Monday night, declaring that Cuba will "answer shot for shot" if "another man is murdered" by U.S. Marines at the Guantanamo naval base.

The Cuban prime minister held a 3½-hour news conference for 33 American newsmen visiting Cuba at his invitation and 40 other foreign newsmen who came to Santiago for the celebration of his 26th of July revolutionary movement.

Spurns U. S. Denial

Castro again rejected the U.S. denial of his charge that U. S. Marines killed a Cuban sentry at the Guantanamo border two weekr ago.

"What is important is that we believe and know that this happened, and the Soviet Union also knows it," Castro said.

"If another of our men is murdered, we will not have another alternative but to answer shot for shot independently of what the American government believes or not.

"The Soviet Union knows if we are forced to take measures we would not be looking for war."

Won't Cut Red Ties

Castro made clear that he would not give up his ties with the Soviet Union to improve relations with the United States.

"The United States tries to maintain a cold war with us and at the same time wants to improve relations with the Soviet Union," he said.

"That objective will not be accomplished. Cuba will not tol-

Hope Fading for 14 Men Trapped In French Mine

CHAMPAGNOLE, France (AP)—Hope began to fade today for 14 men entombed for almost 24 hours in a limestone mine in the Jura Mountains of eastern France.

A drill pipe sunk through 128 feet of mud and rock broke through into an intact part of the mine. Rescuers lowered a highly sensitive listening device down the 6-inch tube but heard only the sound of dripping water and falling stones.

Officials said the absence of human sounds was "very disturbing." They said the men would have come to the point where the pipe pierced the mine roof if they were alive and well.

One official said it was possible that the area of the mine under the drill pipe was cut off from where the men were sheltering. But in that case the rescuers face new and formidable difficulties when they break through into the mine.

Wagner and King Confer on Crisis

Harlem Leaders Angry Because They Were Not Consulted

BY RICHARD F. WHALEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. conferred with Mayor Robert F. Wagner today about New York's racial situation, and Harlem leaders expressed anger that King did not consult them first.

King said after the 3¾-hour meeting, which ended at 2 a.m., that he would meet with "summit leaders" in the riot-torn sections of New York City.

"Matters of national importance" were discussed by King and Wagner, said one of the mayor's aides.

Before leaving Atlanta Monday night, King had urged Negroes in New York to halt violence and lawlessness warning that they could set back the civil rights movement.

Considers Peace Tours

He also said he might make peace tours in Rochester, N.Y., this weekend.

Rochester had its first quiet night since Friday, when rioting and looting broke out, but a state of emergency and a curfew still were in effect.

Hundreds of steel-helmeted city and state police maintained heavy patrols and national guard troops stood by in armories.

New York City policemen testified Monday in a state supreme court hearing that William Epton, a Negro and self-described Communist, told a secret Harlem meeting last week that "the state must be smashed," and "we're going to have to kill cops and judges."

Writ Continued

While King and Wagner were meeting, an aide said that no statement would be made until a news conference at 4 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time today.

Bomb in London Creates Chaos

LONDON (AP)—A smoking incendiary bomb from World War II threw traffic in London's downtown business district into chaos for more than three hours today.

But army engineers—after a cautious watch of the smouldering missile—finally loaded it into a water tank and hauled it off to a gunnery range in the country to be exploded.

Army engineers dug up the bomb and hauled it away.

The street was closed to traffic and huge jams built up along narrow diversion routes. Two subway lines passing underneath the site were sealed off for two hours.

The bomb apparently was one of the thousands rained on London by the Germans 20 or more years ago during World War II.

Indonesian Vows to Put End to Malaysia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Any support Malaysia received from Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman's trip to the United States will not deter Indonesia's determination to crush the neighboring federation, Indonesia's army commander said today.

The declaration by Lt. Gen. Ahmad Yani was the first top-level reaction to President Johnson's promises of training assistance for some Malaysia military personnel and the sale of jet training planes, helicopters and landing craft.

"Whatever might come, Indonesia will continue carrying out its its confrontation until Malaysia is crushed," Yani said.

Rain Forces Cancelation Of Circus

Monday afternoon's heavy rainfall has forced the Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros. Circus to cancel its Fox Cities performance, according to Harry Brown, the circus' press representative.

Final cancellation came about 10:15 a.m. today after circus management had explored numerous sites to try to find one dry enough. All were too wet. Trucks and wagons sunk axle-deep in mud at most sites.

The show was being sponsored by the Appleton Y's Mens clubs. Ticket refunds will be made by the Y's Men's clubs, probably at the YMCA, officials said.

The circus is scheduled to show in Sheboygan on Wednesday, Fond du Lac on Thursday and Madison on Friday.

India Plans to Set Food Price Ceilings

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government will set food price ceilings and control trading to combat rising costs, shortages and hoarding that have resulted in a nationwide food crisis.

Food Minister C. G. Subramaniam said Monday night maximum prices will be announced shortly for wheat, rice and other stables.

Prices for wheat, rice and other basic items of the Indian diet rose 12 per cent during May and June in New Delhi. The government blamed hoarding.

Khanh Hints at War on North

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Nguyen Khanh hinted today his government would go it alone if it decided to take the war to Communist North Viet Nam and the United States refused to give its backing.

"Viet Nam is free in her activities," Khanh asserted to newsmen after receiving commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific, Adm. U. S. Grant Sharp, who arrived in Saigon on his first visit.

Khanh was asked if South Viet Nam can attack the North with or without the United States. Khanh and his Cabinet ministers have been whipping up local feeling in recent weeks over the possibility of returning in force to the Communist North.

The United States opposes this move at the present time.

Khanh said "first of all this is not a matter of attack. Everyone always talks about attack which makes us sound like the aggressors but Communists are the aggressors, not us.

The military premier then added 'the second point is this: Viet Nam is free in her activities. It is an independent and free government."

Sir Winston Will Retire

House of Commons Pays Tribute To Churchill for His Services

BY COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons, soon to dissolve into a bitter election battle, united today for a tribute to Sir Winston Churchill.

Before the lower house of Britain's Parliament was a motion recording its gratitude for his services to Parliament, Britain and the world. No other man has been so honored since the Duke of Wellington more than a century ago.

Sir Winston Absent

Churchill was not to be present to hear the motion adopted. He visited the House Monday for the last time as a member.

He will be 90 in November. For the first time in 64 years he is not contesting a seat at the election in the fall.

Crowds gathered outside the Commons to cheer him as he arrived and as he left Monday. The galleries were crowded. The bent old figure shuffled to his seat at question time. For nearly an hour he listened, then rose unaided.

With friends at his side he walked slowly to the exit, gave a brief glance back at the scene of his many battles and was gone.

This was the text of the Commons motion:

"Sir Winston Churchill. That this House desires to take this opportunity of marking the forthcoming retirement of the Rt. Honorable Gentleman the member for Woodford by putting on record its unbounded admiration and gratitude for his services to Parliament, the nation and the world.

"Remembers above all his inspiration of the British people when they stood alone and his leadership until victory was won; and offers its grateful thanks to the Rt. Honorable Gentleman for these outstanding services to this house and to the nation.

"That a committee be appointed to wait upon the Rt. Honorable Gentleman and convey to him the thanks of this House:

"That the prime minister, Mr. Harold Wilson, Mr. J. Grimond, Sir Thomas Moore and Mr. Emanuel Shinwell be members of the committee."

Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home leads the Conservative party; Wilson the Labor party and Grimond the Liberals. Moore and Shinwell are veteran members.

By coincidence the tribute came 50 years to the day after a typically Churchillian episode.

Safeguarded Fleet

On Tuesday, July 28, 1914, seven days before Britain was swept into World War I, the British fleet was exercising off the south coast. Churchill was first lord of the Admiralty.

Without consulting his colleagues in the Cabinet, Churchill ordered the fleet to battle stations at Scapa Flow, north of Scotland. The huge fleet—stretching 18 miles in line—slipped safely through the Dover Strait to its war base without the risk of attack by German submarines.

2 Astronauts Selected for Gemini Craft

Injury and Illness Keep Older Men Out of Program

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Capt. James A. McDivitt, 35, of Chicago will become the first of the second generation astronauts to man the command seat in a Gemini spacecraft.

Capt. Edward H. White II, 33, of San Antonio, Tex. will be his copilot.

The surprise announcement of their selection as the crew of the second Gemini spacecraft was made Monday by Paul Haney, Manned Spacecraft Center public affairs officer.

Some Astronaut with experience in the Mercury project had been expected to draw the pilot's assignment but injury and illness knocked the older spacemen off the crew.

Shepard Jr. is suffering from labyrinthitis, which causes dizziness. John H. Glenn, Jr. who resigned from the space project but who may return, also suffers from labyrinthitis. Donald K. Slayton, another from the original group, has an erratic heart beat.

No Word on Cooper

Maj. L. Gordon Cooper Jr., one of the seven Mercury astronauts, was the only member of the original seven-man Mercury team available for the assignment. The manned spacecraft center gave no explanation of why Cooper was passed over.

The backup crew for this flight will be Maj. Frank Borman and Lt. Cmdr. James A. Lovell Jr., with Borman designated as spacecraft commander.

Continuity Vital to Child's Life

If your family plans to move either a few blocks or to another country be sure that they understand what to expect It's difficult to overrate the importance of continuity in a child's life

Because moving takes a period of adjustment you need to help a child to picture his new home or his room, where he'll go to school, if you'll be going swimming or doing other activities The familiar routine tends to stabilize the life of the child

When the moving process happens often it becomes a predictable routine, too Children may even look forward with eagerness to the next adventure of moving

School Work Affected

Changing schools may be harder to do than changing homes Some loyalty develops to the school and the friends made there A teenager may have such a fierce loyalty that makes it difficult to accept to a new situation

A boy or girl who has attended several high schools may never achieve the feeling of belonging or being a part of the school The social life and activities of the school which seem so important to young people may be difficult to enter when they're new Sometimes this even affects school work

If your family has a deep sense of unity and is happy and secure a move probably won't make much difference to a child

Swing-in Bed Plans Requested

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: We would like to build a swing-away bed into the paneled wall of our family room. Do you know a source for plans for this type of project? Who supplies this type of "Murphy Bed"?

A: I know of no source of plans for this specific project. But there is an excellent detailed do-it-yourself treatment of similar project (24 inches deep), in Volume Two of the Practical Handyman's Encyclopedia, published by Greystone Press, New York City. Possibly your library has this worthwhile series.

"Murphy" beds are manufactured by Murphy Door Bed Co., Inc., 17190 Wyoming St., Detroit 21, Mich. Undoubtedly the dealer, or even the manufacturer can help you with installation methods.

Q: I am moving into a newly built home which has tile floors and tile counter tops. Is there a special preparation or wax which can be applied before using the tile to keep it looking clean and fresh? I have seen tile floors with darkened cracks between the tiles.

A: The kind of wax or finishing material (if any) to be applied to the tile depends upon the kind of tile used. Unglazed tile is porous and applying a sealer-finish is recommended to make maintenance easier. Unsealed cemetn joints between tiles accumulate a smeary scum when soap-type cleansers are used on them. Such floors, not subjected to heavy traffic, should be cleaned with a creamy clean-up wax made by a nationally known manufacturer and widely available at supermarkets, housewares and hardware dealers.

I suggest sending 25 cents (no stamps) to Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., 20402, for copy of booklet No. A1 77·12, "Planning the Kitchen and Workroom," which contains a section on various surface materials on floors, walls, counters, etc. — and their proper care, installation, etc.

How to Handle the Boss

As June grads are discovering, a job can be stimulating or pure drudgery. And the work is not the determining factor, not unless it is altogether monotonous

Rather the boss sets the tone When an employer is hypercritical, thoughtless or curt, a girl's workday is so miserable that she considers quitting. Of course she is free to do so But if she likes the firm and the opportunities offered, she might try a bit of career - womanly diplomacy

Let's see how it could turn out in relation to pet grievances that girls hold against boorish bosses

Grievance. Being harsh about mistakes, yet blind to good work To handle: Quietly offer to rectify the trouble, then subtly point out successes, i.e. "I'll fix this report right away I'm so glad there were no errors in yesterday's accounts."

Grievance. Poor organization, so that mornings are slow and the tired end of the day is a pressure cooker of inefficiency To handle: Tactfully suggest ways to smooth schedules. Predicate ideas on saving time and money, and you can't miss!

Grievance: Curt, hazy instructions To handle: Speak low and ask for clarification. Nothing "learns" bosses like the exemplary manners of employees

Naturally, depending on the job, there are more complaints But not those words — subtle, tactful, quiet. They're the aces that win the game

To open a door on increased poise and popularity, send for our booklet, Winning Manners Topics included are Introductions, Invitations, Table Manners, The Charming Hostess, You — The Guest, Dating Manners, Formal Dances, Travel Tips and Tipping, Small Points, like when to wear a hat or check your coat For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of Appleton Post-Crescent, enclosing 25 cents in coin, and a long, self - addressed stamped envelope.

Small Ones Helpful in Finessing

When you're in doubt about the right play, think about the small cards They will often suggest the right play in a compount finesse

South considered a finesse at the first trick but rejected the idea He thought he had a better chance in the play of the clubs

Declarer therefore won the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts and returned the nine of diamonds to the ace Back came a trump, and South forced out the king of diamonds Back came another trump, and South won again

Now came the key play — a low club When West played the four of clubs, South let the seven of clubs ride as a finesse, losing to the jack

Both cards on this trick were revealing West's play of the four indicated that he probably did not hold the three, and East's play of the jack indicated that he probably did not hold the ten

South decided to follow the evidence West probably held the ten of clubs but not the three There was no way of knowing who held the king

If West still held K-10 of clubs, the situation was hopeless If West held only the ten of clubs, the contract could be made

South therefore ruffed East's heart return and led a trump to dummy's king Now he returned the queen of clubs from dummy This was the second half of a compound finesse in clubs It trapped East's king and West's ten on the same play and assured the game and rubber

You may wonder if this method of playing the clubs is better than just leading out the ace and then a low club toward dummy. It is because West will usually step up with the king if he starts with justK-x and may do so even if he has three to the King You hold the club loss to one trick more often than by any other method of playing the suit

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes You hold S 4 2 H J 9 8 4 2, D K 7 6, C K J 3 What do you say?

Answer Bid two hearts You might consider a jump to four hearts, but should reject the bid because your distribution is not quite good enough You should have a singleton or a void for the jump to game

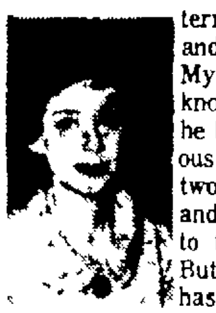
Details on Errant Relative Unlikely to Aid Children

BY DR EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones· Should I tell my children the truth about their uncle or not? It makes me terribly upset and frightened My children know only that he had a "nervous breakdown" two years ago and had to go to the hospital But he really has been incarcerated in a hospital for the criminal insane for committing incest



Dr. Jones

He's due to be released in a few months, and he has written that he's planning to live near us because his wife and children won't have anything to do with him

I don't know if I can trust him with my children And I don't know if it would be better for me just to be very watchful or if I should explain to my children what he did and what they should look out for MRS S F.

Don't tell your children any more specific details of your brother's past behavior. That kind of information is totally unlikely to aid them in any way.

Guard them against seductive or hostile attacks from others — including your brother — by giving them the love and acceptance they need, by being truthful with them about the facts about sex that children their ages need to know, and by helping them realize that they can and should report to you instantly if anyone — relative, friend, or stranger — seeks to fondle them, give them gifts, or get them to go off in private without first telling you where they're going and for what.

Unless the institution where your brother has been staying is highly unusual, it probably has provided no modern treatment for his psychological problems So his release can't be relied upon as an indication that he's now any different psychologically from the person he was when he was placed in custody

However, the special character of his crime is less important than the fact that he was emotionally sick and probably still is. If you can't soon overcome the negative emotional reactions you report you have now, talk them over with one of the professional counselors at the agency whose name I'm sending you. It also probably will be advisable to keep your contacts with your brother to a minimum until you get yourself under control and feel confident you can protect your children.

Your Problems

Ann Stands Up for Sitter Didn't Open Door to Stra

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I did what I thought was right and now I am in Dutch with the people I sit for. Please publish my letter and your advice.

I'm a teenager who sits for a nice family. They have four children. Maybe I am a fraidy cat but I never open the door for anyone After all, I don't know all the friends and relatives of the people I work for. Chances are about one in a million that I might let in an intruder but I don't want to take that one chance.

Landers

The other night a man rang the doorbell. He had a suitcase in his hand, and said he was a brother-in-law I refused to let him in the house He was awfully mad at me because he had to sit in his car for two hours

When the Mr and Mrs finally came home they were furious with me They said I should have known from looking at the man that he was "perfectly O K" What do you think about this? —Chicken

Dear Chicken: I think you're the kind of girl I'd like to have as a sitter for my granddaughter.

The first rule a sitter should learn is never to open the door for anyone. It's not possible to tell by looking whether a person is "perfectly O.K." The folks for whom you work should have praised you for your good judgment — and given you a bonus in the bargain.

DEAR ANN LANDERS I was interested in the letter from the woman who wrote about the deaf-mute who went around selling packets of needles for 50 cents

I work in the department of Health, Education and Welfare in the area of vocational rehabilitation and I can tell you there is no justification for any deaf person operating as a beggar, peddling his disability Generally speaking deaf people have normal strength, mobility and intelligence

Our efforts to help the deaf are often undone by the operation of gangs of deaf beggars who swoop down on a community with their false tales of inability to obtain jobs, thereby creating a negative image of deaf people.

They distort the true capabilities of the deaf and thus harm their own employability and ultimate adjustment. Millions of intelligent Americans have formed their concepts of the deaf as a result of a fleeting contact with this fraudulent begging racket.

I hope you will print this letter and help educate the public —Sincerely B H M

Dear B. H. M.: I am happy to do so and I appreciate your letter. Thank you for writing.

Bulky Look In Balmain's Paris Showing

BY LOUISE HICKMAN

PARIS (AP)—Buttonless, bulky coats with band collars were the news from Balmain this morning as Paris fall and winter fashion showings entered their second day

The soft, padded look that comes from thick fur linings or soft quilting is important in Paris coats this season Often the look is there without the fur or wool "stuffing" being apparent

Most of Balmain's coats had edge-to-edge openings Linings of fabric or fur had a layered, buttoned-in look Jersey helmet turbans had a wide chin strap that disappeared inside the rolled-edge, rising-band collars

Dresses were often of heavy jersey

Bulky, open Balmain coats in camel were lined in civet, or camel and gray checked wool Beaver went inside an oatmeal tweed that was lightly fuzzed with mohair, as were many of the Balmain tweed coatings

Dresses and suits also had band collars, often shaped to smoothly circle the throat like a necklace, rather than jut straight up Their edges were soft and rolled, not sharply pressed

Slim-skirted coats were outlined, cossack-style, in bands of mink These, too, were edge-to-edge down the front Jackets repeated the coat silhouettes—either squarish and bulky with band collars, or fur-banded more fitted cossack types

Balmain also repeated some of his jackets of last season They were longer, and with the fullness shaped, not shirred, into hip and sleeve bands

To Your Good Health

Cold Is Not One Specific Disease

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner Can anyone catch a cold in the eye?

Dr. Molner

While we usually think of a cold as being in the nose, the disease invades the body generally.

It's like chickenpox. The spots are just the outward sign that the body has been unable to throw off the virus infection.

Now colds are really many diseases. We aren't yet sure how many, but we know that dozens of different viruses can cause colds, and it may turn out that several hundred are involved

Some colds are mild influenza of different strains.

There are viruses which primarily cause stuffiness in the nose, others which in addition inflame the throat

Various Symptoms

With any of them, it is not unusual to have a headache, or a feeling of fullness You may (or may not) run a temperature, or have some achiness, or lose your appetite, or feel tired or grouchy or listless

So, you see, a cold isn't limited to the nose.

Some conjunctival viruses have the distinct tendency to inflame the eyes. It is not unusual for almost any severe cold to do this to some extent

Very probably the nose and other respiratory passages are the principal entry area for the virus in the first place, but we know that some viruses can be transmitted by way of the moist surfaces of the eye It is possible, I dare say, that any of them might, since small ducts connect the eye socket and the nose and throat

Don't think of a cold as a single, specific disease It is a whole group of similar diseases Actually, the word "cold" should be confined to the nose or throat When the eye is involved it is a conjunctivitis

Dear Dr Molner A month ago the doctor said I had a cyst on my right ovary He didn't mention an operation, but I think that's what he has in mind Can the cyst be treated with medicine? I am too young to have a hysterectomy, only 25 Please help me if you can

MRS E S G

You're getting panicky when you shouldn't First of all, if the cyst isn't causing trouble, it may be left alone There is no medicine which will correct it, however

Second, you jumped to a conclusion, when it would have cleared your mind at once if you had asked your doctor right then If you don't know ask! It's far better than worrying by yourself

Third, even if the cyst does have to be removed, you still have another ovary The cyst can be removed without performing a hysterectomy So you are torturing yourself needlessly about "a hysterectomy at 25" Feel Better now?

Dear Dr Molner What about the advisability of surgery for pendulous breasts? I am very large, and 56 years old.

Years ago I was told by a surgeon that it was dangerous and there was a likeligood of adhesions

B P M

We have to accept the fact that no operation is totally without danger, but in recent years techniques have been developed so that correction of pendulous breasts is dependable

Not every general surgeon has had experience with this type of procedure Consult a specialist

GIFT QUANDARY

Dear Louise Please help us co-workers with a suggestion for a wedding gift for one of our office mates, a widow, who is remarrying. She and her fiance, in their early 60's have owned their own homes for years so the usual type of gift doesn't seem appropriate Both are in comfortable circumstances.

Miss Daivs

Louise Davis Answers:

Assuming that you can determine the future bride's tastes, I'm sure you will come up with an idea You might consider adding to her flat silver as a serving spoon and fork, a pie knife or how about an electric blender, electric carving knife or an electric casserole?

GROUP ERRS

Dear Louise As secretary of a chorus, I was instructed to send a wedding gift to a prospective bride whose mother is in our group I was told to address the package to Mr and Mrs George Smith I told the members they are incorrect, that it should be to Miss Mary Brown I lost the argument. Who is right?

You are right The gift should have been sent only to the bride-to-be and in her maiden name for she wasn't yet Mrs George Smith Even after a couple marries, gifts are sent to the bride and not to Mr and Mrs

The big are getting bigger to the joy of their stockholders, the tax collectors, those who may be getting new jobs or longer work weeks, and the economic planners

Most of the earnings statements report sizeable increases over a year ago, and many boast of historic highs A few industries some individual com panies prove exceptions

Steel Reports

The steel reports which reach a climax this week are an example Many of those already on record for the April-June quarter results show slight drops from a year ago, when their business was feverish rather than normal because of orders to hedge against a possible strike These include Republic, Armco, Allegheny Ludlum, Jones & Laughlin, Sharon, Colorado Fuel & Iron.

Even in steel some campanies are ahead of last year's busy second quarter Inland, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Acme, Granite City, Cleveland-Cliffs Iron.

The railroads are thoroughly mixed Many were wallowing in troubles a year ago Second quarter gains this year are naturally fantastic by comparison New York Central Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio Others ahead this year are Norfolk & Western, Wabash, Delaware & Hudson

Declined Earnings

But more roads are showing declines in earnings in the 1964 quarter Chicago & North Western, Missouri Pacific Chicago Great Western, Soo Line, and Great Western Maryland Three are operating at losses Milwaukee, North Pacific, Central of New Jersey

The big oil companies are riding a profit boom Earnings after taxes were up in the second quarter for Socony Mobil, Texaco, Shell, Indiana Standard, Continental Tidewater

The Big Three in autos all set records General Motors, Ford, Chrysler Aircraft makers ahead include Douglas Aircraft, North American Aviation Supplies to auto aircraft, missile and allied industries also are on the prosperity road Pullman, Westinghouse Air Brake, Stewart-Warner, Eaton Manufacturing, Textron

The electronics and appliance industries have plenty of gainers Westinghouse, Texas Instruments, Maytag, Minneapolis Mining & Manufacturing, Raytheon, United Carr So do the business equipment makers: IBM, Xerox, Burroughs, Honeywell.

Glass Companies

Glass companies on the plus side in the second quarter were: Libbey-Owens-Ford, Owens-Corning Fiberglas, Thatcher, Anchor Hocking, with an exception being Pittsburgh Plate Glass.

Paper and lumper companies are almost solidly on the upside Rayonier, Weyerhauser, Champion, Mead, Riegel, Consolidated, Crown Zellerbach

Construction supplies also are big gainers this year: Johns-Manville, E. L Bruce, Flint-Standard Sanitary, Certain-Teed

Chemicals show few laggards Ahead in the second quarter, compared to a year ago, were: Du Pont, Union Carbide, Allied, American Cyanamid, Olin Mathieson, Stauffer, Wyandotte, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Rohm & Haas, Diamond Alkali, Freeport Sulphur, American Potash & Chemical, Pennsalt, Sun, Atlas, National Distillers & Chemicals.

Tunisian President Tries to Salvage His North African Plan

TUNIS (AP)—Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba is making new efforts to smooth over North African quarrels and salvage something of plans for a united Maghreb—greater North Africa

Africa

Bourguiba hopes to convince Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella and Moroccan King Hassan II to join him in a summit meeting of the three nations that once formed French North Africa

The initiative was born out of the African summit conference in Cairo last week where the idea of unity through stages and regional groupings was preferred to Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah's proposal for federated African government.

Les Voyageurs Arrived Home to waiting parents early Monday evening. As the bus pulled into the station, arms waved from open windows and faces were pressed against the glass for a look at home and dear ones. Beth Borsum, above, talked briefly with her father, William Borsum, before the family went home to talk over and share the recent weeks in France. Ted Kloehn, above right, checks a suitcase before leaving the friends with whom he'd traveled to France and back and going home with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. K. E. Kloehn.

Chris Grupe, the First One off the bus that brought Les Voyageurs on the last leg of their trip from Paris to Montreal to Chicago to Appleton, ran along the sign the students put on the bus as it approached home. The group had stopped at a Milwaukee shopping center to buy the paper and paint and adhesive tape, and then had autographed the spoof at themselves. It broke whatever feeling of strangeness might have existed at welcoming home the teens who had had so many experiences during their weeks in France, and who were coming home not quite the same people as when they left. Below, Mrs. R. C. Nock and daughter, Susy, rush toward each other for their first greeting. Many friends who saw the students off in June were on hand for the welcome home meeting. Home From France

Les Voyageurs Return After Six-Week Visit

They're home!

The crowd of parents, brothers, sisters and friends expected Les Voyageurs to arrive at the bus depot at 7:30 p.m. Monday. No one took any chances on missing them. By 7:15 they were getting out of cars and standing in little groups, talking, laughing, unable to believe that the last seven weeks had gone so fast.

Mrs. Rolland Nock, whose daughter Susy had been with the group, kept saying she wished she'd made a sign, "How you gonna keep 'em down on the farm," to wave as the bus arrived. Everyone agreed it was a good idea, but no one would leave long enough to get the paper.

Dream Trip Ends

Conversation, as the last lingering minutes of the 'dream trip' faded away, centered on Mrs. Kim Miller, the teacher who had planned the visit to France and now lies in a Paris hospital, recovering from auto accident injuries. It was the only sad note of the seven weeks the AHS French students spent with the families, the landmarks and the history of France.

The rest of the talk concerned the most recent letters, the afternoon storm that arrived after the students had landed in Chicago, and the excitement at seeing these well - traveled and much - missed young people again.

"They're here," someone shouted as a bus rounded the corner. The crowd moved, but it wasn't their bus, and the elderly people who got off looked with puzzled expressions at the crowd which suddenly pulled back.

Welcome Home!

Then, a few minutes later, "It's coming!", and it was. There was a catch in throats as the bus turned into the depot, with a brown paper sign in bold letters asking, "How you gonna keep 'em down on the farm?" taped to its side. Arms waved out of windows and the crowd was no longer a group. It was individual parents, each with a child to be gathered back into a family circle.

Chris Grupe was the first one off the bus. She ran along the sign, laughing and crying at the same time and was caught by waiting parents.

The others came behind, one

Appleton Education Board Opens Door to Federal Aid

Members Unanimously Approve Application of Funds for Equipment In Einstein School

BY PATRICK MCELHINNEY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton's Board of Education agreed Monday to eliminate its policy against accepting federal aid and authorized its superintendent of schools to apply for assistance in the equipping of Albert Einstein Junior High School.

Votes on the two motions were unanimous. Unanimity was somewhat surprising in light of recent discussions on the nearly 4-year-old policy.

The approximately $27,000 which will be sought to aid in paying for mathematics, science and modern foreign language equipment is a proverbial drop in the bucket. Expected cost of the Einstein school is more than $4 million.

Opens The Door

Yet, Monday's action has opened the door. Now, board members said, the board has authorized its administrators to find every possible means to operate the school system as economically as possible for its citizens.

This could mean eventual acceptance of federal aids for milk and hot lunch programs, testing, guidance and counseling in grades 9 through 12 and other assistance.

The board, however, in a third resolution, reaffirmed that "any other funds (funds other than those raised as a local tax levy through the city council) or gifts in kind be accepted only with board approval."

One Absent

That the board eliminate the 4-year-old policy was moved by Mrs. Helen Heil and seconded by Ken Sager. On a roll call vote, each of the six members cast an "Aye" vote.

John Schneider was absent. Voting in favor were Victor Sumnicht, Charles Buchanan, Dr. Roy P. Whitney, Mrs. George Munro, Mrs. Heil and Sager.

Change with Regret

As Mrs. Munro said, "I changed my point of view with a great deal of regret. I prefer," she said, "we stand on our own two feet."

Sumnicht said Monday it was his understanding the 4-year-old policy did not eliminate entirely the opportunity to accept federal aid.

Supt. of Schools Royce Kurtz said, however, it was his impression it did. He said he brought up the matter in connection with the Einstein school "just in terms of dollars and cents."

Citizen Objects

Mrs. R. Health Reeves, 3 West Court, Appleton, appeared before the board in opposition to acceptance of federal aid. She reiterated some of the arguments which board members had discussed at previous meetings.

Later she asked if the board knew what public sentiment was. Mrs. Munro, the board president, told her there had been many complaints about the board policy but that she was not sure if these complaints were a true representation of public opinion.

The policy which was elimin-

Board Split On Names for High School

Appleton West-East Motion Ends in Tie; Final Vote Delayed

Naming of the proposed and present Appleton senior high schools was delayed for at least another week Monday when the Appleton Board of Education deadlocked on one proposal.

The suggestion moved by board member Victor Sumnicht and seconded by Charles Buchanan, was that the present school be named Appleton Senior High School West and the proposed southeast side school be named Appleton Senior High School East.

In a written vote, board members tied 3-3. One member, John Schneider, was absent.

Sumnicht's motion came after a board committee submitted its recommendation the proposed school be named after poet Robert Frost and the existing one after Samuel Appleton.

Appleton's Role

Appleton, according to historians, was a distant kindsman of William Appleton, whose son-in-law Amos Lawrence helped found Lawrence University. Samuel Appleton, in 1847, donated $10,000 to the university to found a library.

After the vote, the board members decided to delay the naming until at least Aug. 3 to see if they could determine any public preference to the committee's suggestions or to Sumnicht's proposal.

Ken Sager, chairman of the committee, read the report. He and Mrs. Helen Heil had agreed on the Frost-Appleton combination, but Dr. Roy Whitney recommended the name of John F. Kennedy Senior High School for the proposed school or the naming of both schools along geographic divisions.

Frost Proposal

His and Mrs. Heil's reasoning, Sager said, was that naming the school after Frost, literary figure, would balance the now under construction Albert Einstein Junior High School, named after the scientist.

Naming the existing high

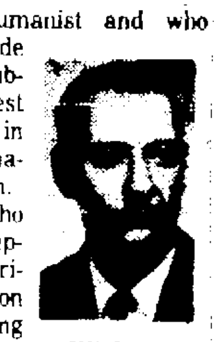
Candidate for U. S. Senate Airs Beliefs

Ken Klinkert Says 'God Idea Is a Dictator Concept'

BY DICK LYNEIS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer



Klinkert

Ken Klinkert, a Menomonee Falls man who says he is an atheist, a humanist and who supports nude bathing in public, is the latest candidate in this year of national election.

Klinkert, who is on the September primary election ballot opposing William Proxmire for the Democratic Party nomination for U. S. Senator, says "the God idea is a dictator concept which is foreign to our democratic form of government."

If elected, Klinkert promises to work in the Senate to get the words "In God We Trust" stricken for U.S. coins, and to get the words "Under God" stricken from the Pledge of Allegiance.

"Free As Possible"

"We should have as free a country as possible," he said, "where people have the right to express themselves publicly.

"If the word god is defined as a Supreme Being; then I am an atheist," Klinkert said, "and if you define God as Love, I am an atheist. By most religious definitions, I suppose you could call me an atheist."

Asked why he considers atheism and nudity campaign issues, he said, "President Johnson said any issue should be discussed if it is important to a political campaign."

"Was Afraid"

"A number of years ago, he said, "I was afraid we would use this as an excuse to go to war . . . we being a God - fearing country and Russia being godless.

"In the Pledge of Allegiance, the words 'under God' restrict our freedom and force children to believe in the god concept."

Klinkert says he has asked the Federal Communication Commission (FCC) for equal television time to counter the religious programs. "No-god programs should get equal time."

Villages' School Budget Approved After Word Battle

$1,240,030 Outlay Is Passed; Discuss Business Manager Job

KIMBERLY—Almost 100 voters of Joint School District No. 6 approved the 1964-65 budget of $1,240,030, but not before a sharp verbal clash from the floor on district economics.

The budget approved is up $165,444 from last year's figure, $1,074,586. This year's tax levy will be $1,065,610, with state, county and federal aids totaling $93,500.

The disagreement broke open when Eugene Schelfhout, who resigned from the board a year ago but was re-elected Monday night and returned to office after the general meeting, questioned retention of a part-time district business manager.

In questioning the auditor's report prior to adoption of the budget, Schelfhout said the part-time post was created while he was a member of the board and was to be a temporary position to last only until the new high school was in operation.

Big Increase

Schelfhout said since 1960, the number of students had increased 140 per cent, the budget 178 per cent and the administrative staff 450 per cent.

He said the same proposal came up in the Kaukauna district twice and was voted down twice. "The school board president of Kaukauna, Marshall Bayorgeon, who has been in that position for 25 years, and former superintendent, Olin Dryer, who headed the district for 20 years voted against it," Schelfhout said.

"Let's take a clue from the wisdom and experience of these people and hold some of these expenses down. If Kaukauna doesn't need it, why do we?", Shelfhout continued.

Board member Mrs. Marie Ruys said, "Let Kaukauna do what it will. If we feel Kimberly needs a part-time business manager to make the district operate better, that's for Kimberly to decide."

Board President Harold Wentzel said the board felt the superintendent's time should not be spent visiting salesmen but rather in supervising teachers and curriculum methods. He said this was why a part-time business manager was named. He added he couldn't remember

District Voters Pick Schelfhout

KIMBERLY — Eugene Schelfhout, a mail carrier who resigned from the Joint School District No. 6 Board of Education last year, and Frank Gossens were elected to three-year board terms Monday.

Schelfhout represents Kimberly, and Gossens represents Outagamie County's Town of Buchanan and Calumet County Town of Harrison. They replace Richard DeBruin, who did not seek re-election, and Frank VanBockel, who resigned when he moved to California.

Balloting in Kimberly was Schelfhout, 202; Sylvester Lenz, 84; Edward Muehlenberg, 45, and Georgianna Van Dinter, 17. Balloting for the two towns was Gossens, 194, and Wilfred Kaufman, 89. A total of 356 persons voted.

Lightning Pierces Skies For Spectacular Show; Some Damage Caused

Menasha's Power Fails as Rain, Hail Pelt Fox Cities

Lightning spectacularly pierced sheets of rain and small hailstones during Monday's cloudburst in the Fox Cities as nature's fireworks caused their share of damage along with the wind and rain.

Hardest hit was Menasha, which suffered a power failure that lasted five hours in parts of the city.

Two bolts of lightning struck the Menasha Water and Power Commission power plant, and the power failed about 4 p.m.

The power did not come back on until between 8 and 9 p.m. in various sections of the city, and as late as 10:30 p.m. in some places.

Six Industries Close

Many homes were left without electricity, while many businesses and at least six industries were forced to close temporarily.

Rain totalled 2.12 inches, and numerous flooding occurred. Water pressure in Menasha was lowered on two occasions during the evening.

Lightning also struck in Appleton, hitting the gas meter outside the house of Norman Wankey, 515 S. Arlington St. Flames leaped from the meter. Firemen were called, shut off the valve and reported there was no damage.

A false alarm occurred at W. College Avenue and N. Richmond Street in Appleton when a gust of wind knocked over a sand barrel containing a temporary traffic sign.

Fire Alarm Box

The sign struck the fire alarm box on the corner, broke the pole, and "turned in" the alarm.

The Cole Bros. Circus performance scheduled for this evening was called off because of wet grounds.

A gust of 51 miles per hour was reported by the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. at 3:36 p.m. in the S. Oneida St. "flats."

The power company also reported a temperature drop of 20 degrees from 3:15-3:30 p.m. Monday.

Most of the damage to power company equipment resulted from lightning and heavy winds. Twenty-three pole top generators hit by lightning had been reported as of 9 a.m. today.

Service was interrupted sporadically all over the city, and crews were repairing the damage today.

The power company also re-

Severe Weather

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Severe weather forecasts covering all of Wisconsin were issued today.

The Weather Bureau said severe thunderstorms with large hail and damaging winds were expected this afternoon and evening.

In the southern part of the state the warning period runs from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. CDT, and in the northern half from noon until 6 p.m.

The forecast also includes northeastern Iowa, extreme northern Illinois, the southern portions of Upper Michigan and extreme northwestern Lower Michigan.

Little Chute School Budget Increased $32,091 by Voters

Nearly $31,000 Added to Fund For District's Future Schools

LITTLE CHUTE About 175 voters of the Little Chute School District voted to increase the proposed 1964-65 school budget from $223,555 to $255,866, an increase of $32,091, at the annual budget meeting Monday.

Citizens voted to add $30,991 to the building fund, and $1,100 to board and administrative services. The increase will result in a hike in the proposed tax levy based on equalized valuation from the rate of 12.5 mills to 14.5 mills.

Total tax levy is now set at $236,566 State, federal and county aid and other receipts will total $19,300.

Voters turned down proposals by the board of education to decrease all board members' salaries from $300 to $200 and to reduce the clerk's salary from $450 to $350.

They added $600 to the fund for administrative expenses, bringing total expenditures for administrative purposes from $2,400 to $3,000.

Voters decided to increase the building fund from $100,000 to $130,991

In other action, voters approved:

—Blacktopping the playground at the village State Graded School at a cost of $6,500 Voters authorized the board to accept bids.

—Purchase of a 110 by 150-foot lot on Monroe Street adjacent to the State Graded School from Peter VanHandel for $4,000. The board had requested $6,000.

George Barber, formerly of Manawa and former Waupaca County superintendent of schools, was introduced as the new administrator of the Little Chute School District and addressed voters.

3 School Board Winners Named

LITTLE CHUTE—Dr. F. X. VanLieshout, Richard Kilsdonk and Kenneth Hermsen were elected to fill three newly created posts on the village board of education here Monday.

Fugitive Was In Kaukauna Area in June

A former Kaukauna man being sought throughout the Midwest as a participant in a gun battle with Detroit police last weekend was in the Kaukauna area last month, sheriff authorities have learned.

Outagamie County Sheriff Calvin Spice learned Monday night Raymond Lawrence Wyngaard, 28, who along with a Michigan man eluded police after wounding a policeman in the battle, visited a former employer in Kaukauna last month. Spice said Wyngaard may have been on his way to California at the time. Wyngaard has not lived in Kaukauna since 1950, but he has several relatives living there.

Wyngaard and Carl Emmett Prichard, 32, of Dearborn, were arrested in California this month and returned to Michigan authorities who had charges of armed robbery against them.

Friday the two escaped from custody, robbed a supermarket and a grocery store, then participated in the shooting incident. They held 10 persons as hostages in a suburban Detroit office building for six hours Saturday before freeing them and continuing their escape in a stolen car.

Authorities in the Midwest are aiding Michigan police in the search for the pair. Both are described as extremely dangerous.

Appleton Man Fined On Disorderly Count

Jerome L. Jorstad, 22, 2405 S. Oneida St., pleaded guilty Monday to disorderly conduct and was fined $25 and cost in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Monday.

Appleton police arrested Jorstad when residents on N. Clark Street reported Jorstad walking up and down in front of a house "like a soldier" complete with an unloaded rifle on his arm.

Menasha Town Board Says Freeway Survey Too Costly

$6,500 Figure Considered Too High for Work

MENASHA — A sum of $6,500 for a survey of a proposed freeway and bridges to cross Little Lake Butte des Morts has been tabbed as too costly by the Menasha town board.

The board, after studying a map of the freeway, said the sum appeared too high for work on land not yet owned for building. Town board members Monday night said the land for the roadway and bridges should first be purchased, then location survey made.

The freeway as envisioned would be parallel to Midway Road, branching on 19 acres owned by the Menasha Corp., and make two crossings of the Lake. The Menasha Corp. land is one of the proposed sites for the rebuilding of the industry after the July 17 fire.

Change Site

Board members said the tentative site can be changed.

Oliver Jacobson said $6,500 was too much money to spend for an indefinite purpose.

Proper location for the freeway and bridge would be north of Midway Road and almost straight across the Lake to Stroebe Island, board members said. This would keep the highway away from railroad tracks and what the board considered good commercial property.

Animal Welfare League and its handling of animals taken into custody was discussed.

Sewer Work

It was agreed the league had the right to destroy any animal in the shelter if it is felt by an official of the organization that the animal is sick or disabled beyond help. Amos Page, board president, stated nowhere in the policies did it say an animal must be checked by a veterinarian. The town will continue its agreement with the shelter, Page said.

Mount Search For Slayer of Menasha Man

Witnesses said Zelewski was shot four times after he stopped three Negro men in an old model car. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zelewski of Menasha, Wis.

More than 50 Negro men were arrested Monday on various charges and police said several were being questioned about the shooting.

Officers found a .38 caliber pistol near Zelewski's body and a shotgun nearby. The pistol was traced to a pawn shop but the owner had no record of its sale. He said it must have been stolen.

Zelewski was the 19th policeman killed in the line of duty since Oklahoma City's force was officially organized in 1889.

He attended Menasha High School and was graduated from Menasha Vocational School in 1954. His parents live at 1471 Home Avenue.

Car, Truck Collide During Rain Storm

Police reported a car driven by Margaret Rollins, 32, 1028 London St., collided with a truck driven by John L. Lundstrom, 53, 229 W. Eighth St., Appleton at the intersection of Appleton Road and Lincoln Street at 5:07 p.m.

Both vehicles were northbound on Appleton Road when the brakes failed on the Rollins vehicle, which in turn struck the rear of the Lundstrom truck, police said.

County Officials Renew Query of 'Landlord' Duty

Need Asserted for Single Authority on Outagamie Holdings

Who will be Outagamie County's "landlord?"

County officials posed the question once again in a meeting of the executive committee and once again the question went unanswered.

The problem has become paramount in recent months after the county took over hundreds of acres of land for airport purposes in the Town of Greenville, and is anticipating a land problem with the old airport and the county farm.

Several committees including the parks committee, the airport committee and the insurance and property committee have certain "landlord" responsibilities, but executives are anxious to have the responsibilities centered on one committee or group.

Diversified Authority

With the diversification of responsibility, A. W. Ponath, corporation counsel said, it has become impossible to find out what lease requirements certain properties have or when or how rents are collected. He said it is impossible to tell a prospective renter how to approach the county and ask about rentals when it is hard to learn who has the power to approve or deny the rental.

Alvin Woehler, county business administrator, said the responsibilities of the property and insurance committee are becoming "too great" to adequately take on landlord responsibilities for county-owned lands. He said the committee is becoming much too involved with insurance responsibilities and housekeeping chores in the courthouse to be handed responsibility for about 1,400 acres of land.

The landlord responsibility is to be discussed at a meeting of the 11-man special committee on Aug. 20.

Whether Big or Small— It's Still 'Car Theft'

Cars Plowed Through flooded Winneconne Avenue in Neenah as waters reached the top of the curb just east of the Soo Line Railroad tracks.

Indian Economy Boost

Wolf River Park Plan Revived by State Unit

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—A plan for a large state park on the scenic Wolf River within densely wooded Menominee County has been formally revived by the State Conservation Department in a proposal to the Menominee Indian Corp. which owns the waterfront and forest involved.

The plan was made public Monday by John Beale, head of the department's State Forest Service, at a conference called by Gov. Reynolds to harness state agency efforts for the economic assistance of the distressed Indian community.

Beale said the new park would soon draw hundreds of thousands of visitors to the area and would ultimately infuse the local economy to the extent of at least $500,000 in additional income each year.

Area Designated

The area Beale designated for state purchase from Menominee Enterprises Inc. includes about 4,340 acres west of Highway 55 north of Keshena in what would $ include such famous scenic sites as Sullivan Falls, Ducknest Falls, the Dalles, Saturday Islands, Big Smoky Falls, and about six and one quarter miles of Wolf River frontage where the river is beautiful and turbulent.

Beale said the state is also interested in a 480 tract of orginal white pine northwest of the park zone, for recreational and natural history study uses, but said that acreage could be procured for public use through easements rather than purchase.

He said the proposition was submitted to the officials of the Menominee corporation and the county government only a week ago, and that reactions toward the idea have not yet been received.

There was no immediate comment from the Indian community representatives at the meeting here, and Beale did not estimate costs to the state or other details.

"The natural appeal of the Wolf River, the timbered expense and the ethnic interest of the Monominee people all add up to a tremendous recreational asset which would result in a benefit to the local economy and general well-being of county citizens," said the department's formal proposal.

The department prospectus said the annual attendance at such a Wolf River park should reach 250,000 persons, and it said the income value per visitor day is now computed at about two dollars.

Zone Location

It noted also that the north central zone of the state does not now have a major park of recreational significance, and that the Menominee community is within 100 miles of more than 1,000,000 Wisconsin residents.

The idea of a public recreational zone within the Menominee County forest has been discussed at intervals for more than a decade. The last overture by the conservation department, several years ago, foundered when there was an indifferent reception by the Indians and the department found itself lacking the land purchase and development funds such a sizeable venture would require.

It now has a special appropriation for a crash recreational lands acquisition effort.

3-Year-Old's Future Bleak

Mother, Daughter Free From Jail Cell, Security

The future for little Sandra Hernandez, 3, is bleak today as she is ordered freed from her special jail cell where she and her mother have been living the past three days.

Sandra was ordered held in the cell after her mother, Stephani, 33, San Antonio, Tex., said in court she could not pay a $25 traffic fine for driving without a driver's license.

Monday both the mother and child were prepared to wait out the jail sentence in the girl's juvenile section of the Outagamie County jail.

The county welfare department had suggested that the child stay with her mother during her jail term.

Today County Judge Gustave Keller ordered the woman released on probation.

Mrs Hernandez is without money for transportation back to San Antonio. The car she was driving when she was arrested Saturday near Shiocton was damaged in an auto accident. The child's father is in St Elizabeth Hospital where he is being treated for injuries from the accident.

Two traveling companions, Juan DeLa Cruz, 37, and John Tidd, 36, who were uninjured in the accident were arrested for being drunk and being without funds to pay their fines, are serving jail terms.

A representative of the St. Vincent de Paul Society has offered to provide the mother and her child with room and food tonight. It is believed the plight will then be taken to city welfare director Merton Ehricke where arrangements will be made for transportation back to Texas.

Sheriff Calvin Spice said the child was being adequately cared for while in her cell.

"She had all the milk she could drink," Spice said, "and some of the jailers brought some toys for her to play with. The bed she slept on is probably the first one she has ever slept on." Saturday night the child took her first shower.

Employes Sent Home

Lightning Storm Forces Closing Of Twin Cities Stores, Plants

MENASHA — An electrical storm blasted the Twin Cities late Monday afternoon causing power failures which left Menasha homes, business and industry without electricity for several hours

Lightning, which accompanied heavy rains, struck the Menasha Water and Light Commission's power plant at 4:01 p.m., starting a fire in a switch gear and knocking a steam turbine and turbine controls out of commission.

The resulting power failure continued in some sections of Menasha until 10:30 p.m. Other areas regained power at various times between 8 and 9 p.m.

Stores Closed

Most stores and restaurants in Menasha were forced to close Service stations throughout the city were unable to pump gasoline for customers.

Industries receiving power from the Menasha municipal utility were effected.

Water pressure in the city was lowered on two occasions, Thomas McGuire, Menasha Water and Light Supt., said. The first instance occurred shortly after the lightning struck the power plant. Employes had to convert an 850 kilowatt diesel engine at the water plant to provide power to the stricken steam plant, McGuire said. The situation lasted approximately ten minutes.

The second instance occurred at 7:30 p.m., and lasted about 20 minutes, when the water plant diesel engine failed temporarily.

McGuire said water reserve from the Menasha water tower was not available because the inside of the tank is being painted and the water had been drained.

Menasha firemen were called to extinguish the flame in a boiler at Gunderson's Laundry, 41 Main St., when low water pressure threatened a blowup in the boiler.

Lightning struck at least two homes in Menasha during the height of the storm.

Menasha firemen were called to the Howard Mielke home, 619 Second St. and the Tom Verbrick residence, 640 Second St. at 3:55 and 4:05 p.m. respectively after lightning bolts struck the homes. Damage was minor in both cases.

2.12 Inches of Rain

A total of 2.12 inches of rain fell during the storm, the Army Corps of Engineers reported. Streets in both cities were flooded at various locations.

Traffic signals in Menasha were knocked out during the storm. Police directed trafic at some intersections; no additional policemen were called in for traffic duty.

At least one traffic accident in Menasha and two in Neenah were reported during the heavy rain, which slicked pavements and hampered vision.

As is usually the case in such instances, the storm had its humorous sidelights. The Public Safety Committee of the Menasha Common Council met by candlelight in the council chambers in the City Hall. Children made the best of the situation as they waded through the flooded streets. Some brought out plastic prams, aluminum boats and canoes, and floated along the flooded streets.

Supt. Ray Hamann then added that the part-time business manager was a regular teacher receiving $2.50 an hour for his extra work. Hamann said this amounted to about $1,000 yearly extra.

"I don't care about Kaukauna. I feel we're saving money, Hamann said.

Schelfhout said the cost of educating the average high school student in Kaukauna last year was $409 and in Kimberly was $536. "Is this saving money?", he asked.

At this point, Don Hoh, Combined Locks village president, said order should be maintained and speakers should be allowed to talk only when recognized. Kimberly Village President Alvin Fulcer, elected chairman of the meeting, agreed.

Hamann said Kaukauna's total number of high school students was far greater than the Kimberly district's, and the per-student cost decreased with the number of students.

4 Years of Math

Wentzel amplified Hamann's point by saying three years ago Kimberly inaugurated a four-year math program and only four students enrolled. That one teacher could have handled 25 students, Wentzel said. He said the smallness of the district creates problems similar to those in four-year math and brings the cost per student up.

Schelfhout then said the gap between Kimberly and Kaukauna still was too great. He said when he was on the board, he brought the cost problem up yearly. He said the added benefits "all were nice, but like a new home — we can have all kinds of luxuries, but what can we afford?"

He said the people were being taxed heavily "but is it necessary?"

Board member William J. Kluge said to Schelfhout, "Apparently 282 people (the number who voted for Schelfhout) think you've got the answers. Maybe in the next three years you can do something."

A question came from the floor asking what amount of time was spent by the part-time business manager - teacher in administrative duties.

Half Days

Wentzel said the business manager was used as needed, which usually was about half of each day.

Hamann said in 1961-62 when Schelfhout was a board member average cost per pupil was $436. He said this figure has dropped to $390, while the state average has gone up to $425. "Are you saying this is uneconomical?", Hamann asked.

Schelfhout said the drop was good, but there still was room for much improvement.

Wentzel then asked that discussion be closed and the budget was adopted with opposition on a voice vote.

Dan Burns, a Kimberly resident, opposed standard procedure of authorizing the board to take options and purchase land and submitted an alternate proposal allowing the board to take options on up to three parcels of land of not more than 10 acres. His motion then called for a special district meeting to determine purchase of land. The resolution passed unanimously on a voice vote.

Another resolution made from the floor asked that the board prepare and publish, prior to district meetings, a list of the resolutions it would like passed. The motion passed.

Publish Budget Figures

Burns made another motion asking that the board publish budget figures for two years previous rather than one year previous prior to district budget meetings effective next year. The motion also passed.

In other action, citizens voted to:

—Set textbook rentals at high school, $4; junior high, $3; Grades one to six, $2, and shared time students, $1.50.

—Retain board salaries at $100 yearly. Some board members dissented.

—Name Kimberly State Bank district depository.

Man Barred From Practice Before PSC

Neenah Consultant May Work With Federal Agencies

OSHKOSH — An injunction prohibiting John J. Keller, a Neenah transportation consultant, from practicing law by representing individuals and firms before the Wisconsin Public Service Commission and other state agencies, was entered Monday by the Winnebago County Circuit Court.

The judgment is the final step in a quo warranto suit begun against Keller by the state attorney general on behalf of the State Bar of Wisconsin in September, 1960. The matter was appealed twice to the Wisconsin Supreme Court and the United States Supreme Court. The U.S. Supreme Court vacated the original complaint, Keller said.

The injunction, signed by Circuit Judge Arnold Cane, prevents Keller from giving legal advice to clients to inform them of their legal rights; from preparing for clients documents requiring knowledge of legal principles not possesed by ordinary laymen, and from appearing as an advocate asserting legal rights for a client before public tribunals which possess power and authority to determine the rights of such clients according to law, including the PSC.

Never Licensed

The order, however, does not prevent Keller from drafting papers and making appearances in behalf of his clients solely before the Federal Interstate Commerce Commission.

In the complaint which started the suit, the attorney general alleged that although Keller had never been licensed to practice in this state, he nevertheless had engaged in the practice of law systematically and continuously for more than three years prior to the action.

Keller also had held himself out to the public as being in the business of making applications to the Public Service Commission for authority to conduct trucking operations and to handle proceedings on behalf of truckers in respect to those applicationed, and to appear before that agency and other adminstrative agencies to obtain permits of various kinds and to oppose such applications as requested by others, the attorney general alleged

Examined Witnesses

The complaint recited that he did appear before the commission and examined witnesses and made a record upon which the legal rights of those he represented were decided.

Although the original complaint was dismissed by former Circuit Judge Helmuth Arps, it was reinstated by the Wisconsin Supreme Court, which held that Keller was practicing law.

The U.S. Supreme Court later ordered the state court to modify its ruling so as not to interfere with Keller's right to appear in the Interstate Commerce Commission hearings for which he is licensed.

ated from the board's "Handbook of Board and Administrative Policies" reads as follows:

"The Appleton Board of Education subscribes to the belief that, to be most effective, a public educational program must be responsive to a vigorous, informed citizenry.

Local Responsibility

"We believe it implicit in a system of representative government that the agencies controlling the funds for education must ultimately, necessarily assume responsibility for expenditures. At the present time, the responsibility for education and its control resides at the state and local levels

"We believe that the Appleton Boar dof Education is not authorized by the citizens to barter away any portion of control of the school system, present or future, under any guise whatsoever

"Holding these beliefs, we will avoid entering into arrangements which will permit the encroachment of the Federal government into your public schools, as long as this course of action remains prudent."

Dated 1960

The policy is dated Aug. 22, 1960.

The funds will be requested under Title III of National Defense Education Act. The board, in authorizing Kurtz to apply for the funds, retained the right to reject them even if the application was accepted by the federal agency.

Board Split On Names for High School

school after Samuel Appleton, he said, would keep the school's connection with the community's name and save some of the confusion involved with name-changing.

Sager said the board, if it did accept the Samuel Appleton proposal, should encourage the use of the full name when referring to the school as it does with James Madison Junior High School.

Other Suggestions

The board has received suggestions the schools be named after Kennedy; Herbert Helble, recently retired AHS principal; Anson Ballard, pioneer Appleton educator, and the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Mrs. George Munro, the board president, suggested Ballard's name would be a good one for a proposed northside elementary school because he primarily was interested in elementary education.

How the board will vote — if it does — at the Aug. 3 meeting is uncertain. Sager said he probably would still be out of town on vacation then. Schneider, who may be back, had said in previous discussion he saw nothing wrong with naming the schools after their geographic locations.

Sager said he was against a North-South or East-West idea because it might divide the community. He argued that while at one time this was true, the situation has changed He also said he hoped a "little more imagination" would be used.

at a time, pausing on the steps only for a second while a dear familiar face came into focus, then the race to outstretched arms. The girls' French coiffures were drooped and there was nothing sophisticated about the tears and welcome home hugs. The boys, in used army jackets bought at the Flea Market and their French berets, managed to keep emotions in better rein, but the look of gladness at being home shone from their eyes.

Suitcases were taken from the bus's great insides, and, one by one gathered into waiting cars. Horns honked as families waved and departed. Finally, only the bus remained, its sign still announcing that 24 students had spent seven weeks in France, had learned to live with and love the French people and their country and were coming home, with sense of humor still intact.

As an afterthought, someone came back and removed the sign. Carefully they rolled it up and put it in their car

Sets Hearing on Grade Crossing Application

MADISON — A hearing has been set by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission for Aug. 12 on the request of Schultz Manufacturing and Supply, Inc., for a grade crossing on W. Fourth Street.

The company desires the crossing for use by a spur track of the Chicago and North Western Railway Co which would serve Schultz.

The hearing will be held in the Outagamie County Courthouse. It will start at 11 a.m.

he said, "but the FCC says this is not a controversial question.

"I say it's the most controversial question in history." Nude public bathing "falls into the same picture," he said.

"We shouldn't be ashamed of our bodies," he commented, "and we should remember that we were unashamed of them when we were two and three years old

Nude Bathing

"There would be much less pornography and fewer sex crimes if we permitted nude bathing on our beaches like they do in some countries in Europe."

Discussing one of the most controversial questions of the day, Klinkert says he "supports the right of women to wear topless bathing suits.

"I think this would go along with the President's physical fitness program, because it would make women more aware of physical fitness Then," he said, "women wouldn't have to wear girdles."

Klinkert said he could solve the problem of racial rioting. He said the FCC should order local television stations to have the colored and opposing groups argue their differences on television for eight hours a day, every day.

'No Race Rioting'

"While the groups were arguing their differences," he said, "everybody would be watching and there would be no race rioting. But eventually," he said, "the public would get so fed up with this program that they would demand and press for a solution to the problems. They would want their TV entertainment back so badly, they would get their solutions."

Klinkert says, although he is running as a Democrat, he is not a member of the Democratic Party.

"I tried to join the Democratic Party six years ago," he said, "but they wouldn't let me. they wouldn't accept me because I publicly expressed my religious views. I called myself a Democratic Atheist Unitarian then, but I'm no longer a member of the Unitarian Church.

'Expelled Me'

"The trustees of the First Unitarian Church in Mileaukee expelled me from their congregation.

"But I still align myself with the Democratic Party," he said, "because it is the party of the underdog and minority groups are better represented"

Klinkert said "if you vote for me, you will help end:

"All this foolishness about a God and a virgin giving birth to a son;

"The stubborn refusal of the various organized religions to get together and resolve their differences,

"The pain and suffering two people in marriage have when they come from different dogmatic, religious beliefs,

"The mess we have in our divorce courts and the resulting juvenile delinquency, and

"The race riots flaring up all over the country."

Klinkert, who says he is legally, but not morally divorced, graduated from the University of Wisconsin, and received a master's degree in psychiatric social work from Tulane University.

He was a social worker for the Family Service Agency in Savannah, Ga., "but for the past few years I've been doing part-time teaching and other temporary work while I have been getting into politics."

Cables normally are kept dry by a waterproof sheath, but the high wind and rain broke sheaths open in the areas where phone service was interrupted.

Service Disrupted

Other areas also had telephone service disrupted. One hundred customers did not have service in Neenah-Menasha, 80 phones were "out" in New London, and about 25 were out of commission in Kaukauna and Little Chute-Combined Locks.

Major lightning damage reported was in New London. A bolt of lightning struck a 4,000-volt primary feeder cable on Division Street The lightning burned off the cable, but repairs have been made, according to Louis J. Thomas, utility commissioner.

One hundred telephones on the northwest side of Chilton were put of service because of cable trouble. A bad cable on State Street was discovered about 3 a.m. today The soaking rain caused disruption of service in the cable

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

WE'RE BORN WITH THE DESIRE TO ACQUIRE PROPERTY!
RIGHT ☐ WRONG ☐

Wrong. The desire for property is learned. A number of tribes have been studied in which there is very little private property and very little desire to accumulate it. Even in our own culture there are a number of people who do not seem to want to own property. You may call them shiftless and lazy, or try to inspire them with a desire to get somewhere. Perhaps everybody should want enough private property to take care of themselves properly, but many people, including many Americans, do not.

Which is more destructive?
Cancer ——
Family breakdown ——

Family breakdown. In one recent year there were less than 300,000 deaths from cancer, and a million husband - wife separations. Close to 800,000 persons had their marriages end in divorce that same year. And 700,000 children were brought into court for delinquencies of various kinds that year. Cancer is destructive, no question about that. But even more destructive in terms of human distress is the widespread breakdown of families. So much of it is unnecessary. To get a clear-cut and more detailed analysis of this pressing problem, read the new booklet, "When a Family Faces Stress." Here's Recipe for Making Flour-Salt Bead Necklace

BY CAPPY DICK

To make a small batch of flour-and-salt beads for a necklace, put four tablespoons of salt and four tablespoons of flour in a bowl (Figure 1) and mix them.

Gradually pour in a little water until the mixture is a very thick dough. Avoid using too much water, or it will not be possible to mold the beads with your fingers.

Let beads dry before stringing

When you have stirred the dough thoroughly, add a little coloring, if you wish. A few drops of water color paint will do.

If the mixture is too wet to roll into beads, let it stand until some of the water has evaporated. When you can roll the dough easily into balls, proceed to do so.

As you finish molding a ball, slip it on a long pin as in Figure 2. This is to make a hole in the bead so it can be strung as part of a necklace after it has hardened.

When you have the pin full of beads, prop one end of it up so the beads will not rest on the table. Let them dry. From time to time, turn the pin so the beads will not become lopsided.

Remove the dried beads from the pins and string them.

Foxes Win, 5-4, on Trio of Home Runs

Beene Beats Clinton in Relief Role

CLINTON — Home runs by Steve Huntz, John Matias and Dave May propelled the Fox Cities Foxes to a 5-4 win over Clinton here Monday night.

With the win over the Midwest League's first-round champions, the runnerup Foxes stayed 3½ games behind front - running Quad Cities in the second-half pennant chase.

The Foxes and C-Sox will square off tonight in the second game of the series. Ed Petryshyn is scheduled to hurl for Billy DeMars' charges.

May

Beene

Tom Zink and Denny Kleasne hurled shut-out ball for the first three frames until each team scored a pair of runs in the fourth, both on 2-run homers.

Beats Out Hit

Dave May beat out an infield single for the Foxes in the top of the fourth and scored on Huntz' blast, a drive over the left field wall.

Duane Josephson did the honors for Clinton in its half of the frame, homering after Howie Wood had reached first on a dropped third strike by John Burrows.

John Matias led off the Foxes' sixth with his circuit clout, a drive over the right field fence. The C-Sox, however, scored single tallies in the fifth and sixth and commanded a 4-3 lead when time was called due to rain.

Play resumed after about a half-hour delay, and the Foxes won it in the eighth on May's homer, a 2-run clout over the right-center field fence, some 380 feet away.

Fred Beene hurled the last three innings and took the win, his sixth of the season.

Fred Beene's earned run average dropped to 0.71 with the 3 1-3 innings of perfect relief work Monday night. The little lefthander has allowed only three earned runs in 38 1-3 innings of work.

Reds Blast Braves in Series Opener, 11-2; Maloney Hurls 6-Hitter

Menke Hits Homer; Cloninger Duels Nuxhall Tonight

MILWAUKEE (AP) -- The Milwaukee Braves lead the National League in homers and run production, but they prove themselves only human when they face top-flight pitching.

The Braves ran into a strong performance by Cincinnati right-hander Jim Maloney and managed just six hits, including Denny Menke's 11th homer, in bowing 11-2 to the Reds Monday night before a crowd of 9,550 at County Stadium.

The triumph moved the third place Reds to within three games of the idle Philadelphia Phils. The Braves dropped into a fifth place tie with St. Louis, seven games off the pace.

Carty Gets RBI

Playing without cancer-stricken manager Fred Hutchinson, who entered a Cincinnati hospital for tests, the Reds exploded for 16 hits against Milwaukee starter Denny Lemaster and rookie right-hander Dave Eilers, who was given a rough reception in his major league debut.

The Braves picked up a first inning run when Hank Aaron walked, stole second and continued to third on catcher Johnny Edward's wild throw and Rico Carty's single to center.

The Reds bounced back to go in front to stay in the second. Deron Johnson led off with his 12th homer, Lemaster's 16th gopher pitch of the season. Doubles by rookie Tony Perez and Edwards accounted for another run.

Lemaster settled down and piled up seven strikeouts in the first six innings. However, the Braves were unable to give him any offensive support and trailed 2-1 at that point.

Then the Reds found the range in the seventh, scoring five runs on as many singles, a double and a sacrifice fly before Chi Chi Olivo strolled in from the bullpen to end the inning.

Olivo was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the Milwaukee seventh and Eilers was nicked for two runs in the eighth on an error by third baseman Gary Kolb, a triple by Steve Boros and a sacrifice fly.

Menke launched the Braves' eighth with his homer, a line shot into the left field bleachers. It was Milwaukee's 100th four-bagger of the season. Then the Reds came back with two runs in the ninth on a hit batsman

Bears Dedicate 1964 Season to Willie, 'Bo'

Players Still Stunned by Sunday Tragedy

RENSSELAER, Ind (AP) — The Chicago Bears, defending National Football League champions, have dedicated the 1964 season to teammates Willie Galimore and John Bo Farrington, who were killed in an automobile accident Sunday night.

Owner - Coach George Halas suggested to his squad in training at St. Joseph's College this would be the greatest honor which could be bestowed upon them. The players pledged to carry it through.

Unmarked Turn

Galimore, a halfback and one of the most feared runners in the league, and Farrington, a pass-catching end, were fatally injured when thrown from their skidding small car on an unmarked sharp turn on a country road two miles west of camp.

Funeral services were to be held this morning with all the Bears and coaches in attendance, as well as Galimore's widow, Audrey, who arrived from their home in Tallahassee, Fla.

Tony Conigliaro Out of Lineup at Least Five Weeks

BOSTON (AP)—Rookie outfielder Tony Conigliaro, who suffered a fractured forearm Sunday, will be out of the Boston Red Sox line-up for at least five weeks.

The team said Monday Conigliaro was placed on the disabled list for 30 days.

The 19-year-old player was hit by a pitched ball in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader at Cleveland.

Dr. Thomas Tierney, Red Sox physician, said the fracture is three inches from Conigliaro's right wrist and that it caused no permanent damage.

It also was announced that Conigliaro was fined $250 for breaking the club's curfew restriction while the club was in Cleveland.

Manager Johnny Pesky said Tony violated the 12:30 a m curfew Sunday prior to the

2 Bear Deaths Bring Sympathy To Bays' Camp

Players Speak Of Friendships With Chicago Stars

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The Packers were saddened Monday by the death of the Bears' Willie Galimore and John Farrington.

The players spoke quietly about the two departed Bears and expressed their sympathy.

"It was too bad, really tragic," said Coach Vince Lombardi, who added that there is no real way to express feelings in a situation like this.

Planned on Good Season

Willie Davis was with Galimore most of the summer. "We lived only five blocks apart in Chicago and we went on a number of promotions together.

"Galimore was figuring on a big season. His knees were healed up. I feel real bad personally."

Larry Hunter, the rookie defensive back from Grambling, lived close to Farrington in Houston and knew him for three years. "Farrington has always been a source of encouragement to me in trying pro football," Larry said.

Jess Whittenton, who had the job of guarding Farrington the last three seasons, said "It's a shame such a career is ended. He was an eager kid and he had improved 100 per cent last year over his other years."

Factor in Title Drive

Galimore was starting his eighth season, Farrington his fourth

Terry, Yankees Post Shutout Win Over LA

Victors Increase American League Lead to Full Game

BY MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Suddenly they can't score against Ralph Terry.

Just a few weeks ago, they—the New York Yankees' opposition—couldn't keep from scoring, particularly in crucial situations.

Terry, a right-handed veteran, came through a personally crucial situation Monday night like Perry Mason sails through court cases.

Making his first start since June 10 when he last won, Terry pitched his first shutout of the season as the Yankees stopped the Los Angeles Angels 3-0 and increased their American League lead to one game.

It was at the start of this month that Terry's temporary downfall began. Pitching in relief against Kansas City July 1, the 28-year-old Yankee gave up a game-winning home run to Bill Bryan in the 11th inning.

Two days later, the situation was similar: Terry came on in

Senate Turns Down Proposed Rules for Ethical Standards

Will Study Measures for All Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has turned down proposed new rules for disclosure of the outside financial interests of its members and top employes.

Instead, it has thrown its support to setting up a 17-member commission to conduct a two-year study of measures to insure high ethical standards among all federal officials.

Establishment of the study commission may come up for a final vote today, although a bill to limit meat imports may be given priority.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, expressing surprise over the turn of events in the Senate Monday night, indicated he wanted to explore the situation before making a decision.

Resolution Defeated

The financial disclosure resolutions that went down to defeat were the outgrowth of the Senate Rules Committee's investigation of the fortune Bobby Baker accumulated while secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority.

Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7. In a report to the Senate earlier this month the committee said he had been "guilty of many gross improprieties."

The committee recommended a new Senate rule requiring senators and all Senate employs earning over $10,000 a year to disclose annually their major outside financial interests—but not the value of their holdings nor the income derived from them.

Senate Vote

But Monday night the senate voted 48 to 39 to send this proposal back to the committee with instructions that it report out forthwith a substitute measure providing for establishment of a 17-member commission on ethics in the federal government.

Republican Leader Everett M Dirksen of Illinois made the motion after he protested against singling out the Senate alone for action to safeguard against any conflicts of interest or other improprieties.

"We've demeaned ourselves long enough—and all over one fallen angel," he said in reference to Baker. "It's about time to stop."

Senators Agree

Several senators promptly said the adoption of Dirksen's motion probably killed any chance for congressional action on conflict - of - interest legislation at this year's session of Congress

The Senate also defeated 62 to 25 a far more sweeping disclosure rule than the Rules Committee proposal. It was offered by Sen. Joseph S. Clark- D-Pa.

It voted 59 to 27 against a proposal by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to require senators and other top Senate employes to submit copies of their federal income tax return and a list of their financial assets to a new watchdog committee.

New Canal Is Suggested as Joint Venture

Fulbright Says Russia Might be Included in Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee suggests that when a new sea level canal is built across Central America that a group of nations— possibly including the Soviet Union—join with the United States in the project.

In a new book, being published today, the Arkansas Democrat says he is not advocating Soviet participation in a new canal project, but "neither do I think it must be ruled out as unthinkable," he says.

New Canal

Fulbright says a new sea-level canal, larger than the Panama Canal, must eventually be built.

When it is, he adds, the United States should consider having it built by a "consortium"—a partnership of governments. He then suggests that the Soviet Union, as a canal user, might be a member of the consortium.

Because the Soviet Union would be just one of a group of nations, Fulbright says, it would be unlikely to either disrupt operation of the canal or gain a new base for "subversion in Latin America."

Fulbright adds that Soviet participation might strengthen "their commitment to a peaceful status quo" and thus the international project would represent a gain "for world peace and stability"

Book of Speeches

Fulbright's book, published by Random House, is entitled "Old Myths and New Realities" and is based on an expansion of speeches the Arkansas Democrat has made in the Senate and elsewhere in recent months.

His basic theme is that the United States needs to overcome what he calls a "cold war mentality," rid itself of unrealistic ideas about the state of the world and work for "a worldwide state of mind in which peace is favored over war."

"The cold war and all the other national rivalries of our time are not likely to evaporate in our lifetimes," he says. "The major question of our time is not how to end these conflicts but whether we can find some way to conduct them without resorting to weapons that will resolve them once and for all by wiping out the contestants."

Peking Newspaper Pans Americans on Money Spent on Dogs

HONG KONG (AP)—The Peking People's Daily defended President Johnson today for pulling the ears of his pet beagles, but it blasted Americans for the amount of money they spend on dogs.

"To say President Johnson is cruel to dogs is beyond all justification," the official Chinese Communist paper said "President Johnson and his fellow Americans are dog-loving and dog-respecting people.

"Americans spent more than $3 billion on food, jewelry and clothes for dogs last year while President Johnson allocated only $900 million on his program against poverty.

"Dogs have their own special restaurants, beauty parlors and fashion houses. They can even hold their own parties inviting top government officials to attend"

Arkansas in Quiet Voting For Primary

Democrats Selecting Opponent for GOP Winthrop Rockefeller

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Democrats vote today or whether to send Gov. Orval E. Faubus or a new face against Republican Winthrop Rockefeller in the gubernatorial election next November.

Faubus was expected to easily win nomination to a sixth straight term over three opponents in the state's quietest Democratic primary campaign in years.

Less than half of the state's 633,000 voters were expected to cast ballots. The polls open at 8 a.m. and close at 6 p m.

Faubus appeared on television just once and closed his formal campaign last Friday, five days after he opened it.

Traditional Race

His opponents, Joe Hubbard of Russellville, R D Burrow of Walnut Ridge, and Odell Dorsey of North Little Rock all were making their first statewide political campaigns. Only Dorsey ran any semblance of a traditional race. He closed his campaign Monday night with a statewide telecast, his first.

The race for governor was the only statewide contest on the primary ballot, but there were contests in three of the four congressional districts, all now represented by Democrats.

Rep. Oren Harris was opposed by Dean Murphy, a businessman from Hope, in the 4th District. Florence Clay, a Forrest City Negro, challenged Rep. E. C. Gathings in the 1st District

Hal Cochran of Fort Smith and Jerry Hinshaw of Springdale sought the Republican nomination to oppose Rep. J. W Trimble in the 3rd District.

Trimble had no opposition in the primary. Neither did Rep Wilbur D. Mills of the 2nd District, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee

Interest in the governor's race was at an all-time low in a state which traditionally has elected its chief executive in the Democratic primary Only once since Reconstruction have the Republicans produced more than token opposition for the Democratic nominee—in 1954 when Faubus, seeking his first term, defeated Mayor Pratt Remmel of Little Rock.

The threat posed by Winthrop Rockefeller, brother of Gov Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, switched the emphasis this year

For U. S. Senate

Pennsylvania Woman Anxious to Campaign

HARRISBURG, Pa (AP)—"I'm anxious to get on with the campaign," says Genevieve Blatt, as a Pennsylvania Supreme Court decision virtually assures her the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate, after three months of primary ballot counting.

The high court, sustaining a lower court decision, ruled Monday that machine ballots cast in blank spaces under the name of one of her opponents may not be counted.

Miss Blatt

The decision gave Miss Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, a 500-vote margin of victory over Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the State Supreme Court The third candidate in the race was never in the running.

Making Plans

"Most people in the party are ready to concede I won the nomination," Miss Blatt said after learning of the court decision. "We've been talking plans, but we haven't actually laid any. I'm anxious to get on with it."

Noting reports that Musmanno was considering appealing the case to the U.S. Supreme Court, Miss Blatt said, "I personally don't see any grounds that this is appealable to the Supreme Court of the United States. Certainly if he wants to take it there, we'll answer it and I'm sure we'll win just as we did here."

Miss Blatt, 50, is serving her third four-year term as internal affairs secretary. Originally elected to the post in 1954, she became the first woman to hold a statewide office in Pennsylvania.

November Election

In the November election, she will seek to unseat U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott, nominated by the Republicans for a second term. A likely campaign issue is the conservatism of Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, whom Scott has not yet said he will support.

In Miss Blatt's corner throughout the primary campaign was Pennsylvania's senior senator, Joseph S. Clark, who has had his differences with the state Democratic organization.

Despite the three-month delay in certifying the outcome of the primary, the secretary was far from disheartened.

"I don't think the delay has hurt me," she speculated. "In fact, it may have been a help by all the attention focused on it."

Grant County Youth, Dies in 1-Car Crash; State Total 582

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death of a Grant County youth in a one-car crash during a rain storm boosted Wisconsin's 1964 highway toll to 582, compared with 455 on this date last year.

Peter Caya, 18, of Potosi, was injured fatally Monday night when a car struck a guard rail on Highway 61 three miles south of Potosi in Grant County during a rain storm. The rail pierced the auto's windshield. The driver of the car, Jeffrey Clark, 17, also of Potosi, was treated at a hospital and released.

Goldwater Launches Drive for All-Level Unity Within GOP

Series of Talks Planned With State, National Party Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, seeking to strengthen the GOP ticket in the coming campaign, is launching a drive for top-to-bottom party unity.

The Arizona senator announced Monday night a series of talks with GOP congressional leaders, members of the House and Senate, governors and other party chieftains "in the interests of the campaign, of all Republican candidates' campaigns and of party unity."

Goldwater confers Wednesday with the Senate-House Republican Leadership Conference to talk over legislation facing Congress and discuss campaign plans.

Invite Republicans

The senator said he and vice presidential nominee William E. Miller of New York are inviting all the Republican members of both branches to Capitol Hill breakfast meetings Aug. 6 and 7.

Shortly after those meetings, Goldwater said, he hopes to meet with Republican leaders including former president Dwight D. Eisenhower and former vice president Richard M. Nixon.

"We would like to include all Republican governors," he said. This would include Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Goldwater's chief rivals during the race for the nomination.

Plans Announced

The senator announced his plans after meeting with Miller, Republican National Chairman Dean Burch, Rep. Bob Wilson of California for the House Republican campaign committee and Sen Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska for the Senate committee.

The senator said his campaign strategy "will rely very heavily upon television, radio and the printed word."

Goldwater said his August schedule includes appearances before the House GOP campaign school next week; a convention of county supervisors on Aug. 10; the American Radio Relay League in New York around Aug. 20, a tentative date to address the American Legion in Dallas around mid-August, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Cleveland Aug. 25.

Man Indicted for Collecting Claims On a False Injury

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A Kansas City man has collected about $10,000 insurance by deliberately causing more than 25 automobile accidents in four years, a prosecutor said.

Joseph Lewis Appleby, 40, pleaded guilty in Circuit Court Monday to a grand jury indictment of collecting on a false injury claim.

Donald L. Mason, assistant prosecutor, said the state had 42 witnesses ready to testify that Appleby operated in this manner:

Driving an old car, Appleby would slam on the brakes suddenly so that his car was rammed from the rear by a truck. Then he would tell the insurance adjuster his neck and back hurt and he was going to see a doctor. He usually settled for about $100 or $200 cash.

Baerenwald Gains Quarter-Finals of City Tournament

Defending Champion Wins Twice; Medalist Chuck Bayer Loses

Defending champion Al Baerenwald heads the list of six golfers who have attained the quarter-finals in the 18th Annual Appleton City Golf Tournament over the Reid Municipal fairways.

Baerenwald jumped off to a 3-up lead over Bob Duszak in the second round after six holes Monday and maintained the edge for a 3 and 2 victory. The 1963 champion and only 4-time winner of the coveted top honors had ousted Eric Schulenburg in the first round, 5 and 3.

Others reaching quarter-final status were Jack Otness, Jim Hulsizer, Don Strutz, Jeff Martin and Bill King.

Strutz, a three-time titlist and 1962 victor, defeated Bill Heerman, 2 and 1, in the first encounter. The Butte des Morts representative took advantage of a 20-foot birdie putt on the 17th hole and another birdie on the 18th for a 1-up win over Dennis Babb in the second round. Babb had defeated W. G. Boyson, 7 and 5.

Strutz' next opponent will be Jim Hulsizer. Otness and Baerenwald will also duel in the quarters.

Hulsizer, with the help of a 4-over par 74, defeated Art Nielsen in his initial encounter, 1-up. Jim leveled Harold Swenson in the second round, 3 and 2. Swenson beat Dick VanSistine, 1-up.

Edges Manier

Otness upset John Manier in 19 holes after the North Shore representative had eliminated John Hurley, 5 and 4. Otness posted a 4 and 3 win over Elmer Vandenberg in his first match.

Martin, via BDM, scored a 4 and 3 win over Pete Zanzig. Jeff followed it up with a 3 and 2 win over former champion Tom Lemons. Lemons recorded a 2 and 1 win over Bill Tordoer.

Bill King advanced to the quarters with a pair of 4 and 3 victories. King opened with a win over Les Abel and followed by eliminating Tom Hayes.

Hayes had produced the major upset of the first round. Tom squeaked by Chuck Bayer, 1 up. Bayer was the qualifying medalist with a one-over par 72

The victors of the Don Sprague-Bob Stark Jr. and Syl Bayer-Rick Martinek matches will join the six quarter-finalists. Sprague or Stark will be Martin's opponent. Bayer or Martinek is slated to meet King.

Sprague was extended to the 21st green before posting his initial win over John Lindberg. Stark eliminated Bob Schommer, 2 and 1.

Martinek, one of the three runners-up (74) in the qualifying round, notched a 2-up win over Bill Wachtendonk. Bayer, a former champion, defeated Harry Eskew, 6 and 4.

Lions Will Have 4 Captains for 1964 Campaign

DETROIT (AP)—With an eye to spectator interest and revenue, the Detroit Lions announced a major change Monday in the format for their fourth annual intra-squad charity game Saturday night

Two regular teams, the Blues and Whites, will line up against each other at the University of Detroit Stadium. In previous summer games, the Lions' offensive unit has played against the defensive squad

Wilson also announced the selection of four captains to head the Lions in the 1964 National Football League season

Two of the captains, flanked back Terry Barr and end Jim Gibbons, are on the offensive unit. The other two, linebacker Joe Schmidt and safetyman Dick (Night Train) Lane, are defensive players

Barr and Schmidt are holdover captains from last year.

Dave Bohman fashioned a 4-hitter as Clintonville rolled to its eighth straight Badger Amateur Southern Division baseball victory with a 3-1 win over Greenville Sunday.

Bohman fanned 13 and walked three. Losing pitcher Ken Schmelzel whiffed 18 and passed eight. Schmelzel allowed one hit. Ken Westphal's run-scoring single in the second inning was the only hit off Schmelzel.

Walks led to the other Clintonville tallies. Greenville hit the scoreboard in the bottom of the fourth when Doug Siedler singled and Gary Kohl walked. Harry Pomplun's single scored Siedler.

Waupaca bombed Hortonville, 19-1 and New London leveled Weyauwega, 10-1.

Bob Hansen's grand slam homer in the first inning ignited the 19-run Waupaca riot. Gary Potts twirled a 5-hitter for the win.

New London pushed three runs across in the first on a single, walk and three errors. The victors insured the victory with five in the third on doubles by Claire Baehman and Herb Wilde and singles by Pete Schlise, Karl Kalbus, Ed Gorman and Jerry Kuppernus. Kuppernus also homered in the fifth.

Weyauwega tripped New London, 8-4, in a make-up contest Tuesday night.

Experiment In Running From Home Is a Flop

HOUSTON, Tex (AP)—Two girls who ran away from home "just because" have learned one thing from their experience:

As horse traders, they are flops.

Liddie Bell Baker, 9, and Jannie Lavelle Musick, 7, left their homes about 11 a.m. Monday leading Liddie Bell's 4-month-old Shetland pony.

Before the girls were found by police in late afternoon they had sold the pony for $1, and spent 10 cents of it for potato chips.

Terry, Yankees Post Shutout Win Over LA

relief in the 10th inning, taking over for Stan Williams, who had held Minnesota scoreless through the first nine innings.

Unfortunately for Terry, the result also was similar: Don Mincher slugged a triple and Jerry Snyder followed with a sacrifice fly for a 1-0 Twins' victory.

Series Star

Certainly, Terry must have thought, it wasn't like this in the 1962 World Series when he was the pitching star.

Finally, after allowing two runs in two innings of relief July 5, Terry was rewarded with a two-week rest.

Since that time, however, he hasn't permitted a run in 17 innings. First came three relief appearances totaling eight innings, then a promotion out of the bullpen.

Terry, now 3-8, shut out the Angels on seven hits, not letting a runner get past second base. The performance sent his earned run average to 5.18, the first time it's been under 6.00 since mid-May.

Terry received all of the support he needed from Elston Howard and Roger Maris. Howard doubled home Tom Tresh and Joe Pepitone, who had singled, in the second. Maris clouted his 15th homer in the third.

Indians Defeat Pirates, 8-3, in Exhibition Tilt

CLEVELAND (AP)—Max Alvis, playing for the first time since he was sidelined by meningitis June 25, drove in two runs with a single in the first inning Monday night as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-3 in an exhibition.

The Indians jumped on the Pirates for five runs on six hits in the first and coasted the rest of the way.

The Pirates got their runs with seven hits off Tom Kelley. George Culver of the Indians' Charleston farm club held Pittsburgh to three singles over the last five innings

McDonald and Dial Boost Hopes of Cowboys' Fans

DALLAS (AP)—The way Dallas Cowboys' fans can figure it—the team added 35 pass receptions, 679 yards and four touchdowns when it got Buddy Dial and Tommy MacDonald.

And it kept 43 receptions, 833 yards and 10 touchdowns as represented by Frank Clarke.

So, that should be enough to not only improve on a 4-10 record but make a determined bid for the Eastern Conference championship of the National Football League.

Dial, the Texan acquired from Pittsburgh in exchange for draft choice Scott Appleton (who didn't sign with the Steelers either), and McDonald, obtained from Philadelphia in a trade for some veterans, are considered the fellows who can make Dallas' fifth year in the NFL a glowing one.

The fifth year is supposed to be the one when a pro team gets competitive.

More Time

Coach Tom Landry of the Cowboys says perhaps Dallas ought to have a little more time, say a couple of years, since it had to start absolutely from scratch in 1960. It didn't even get to participate in the draft its first year.

"It takes two years to reach the level of a mediocre pro team when you have to start like that," explained Landry. But he still goes along with the idea that Dallas could be a top contender this fall.

Dial and McDonald caught 101 passes for 2,026 yards and 17 touchdowns between them last season. They are replacing Bill Howton and Clark, who had a combined 76-1,347-13.

Howton retired from football but Clarke still is around and he's likely to play almost as much as Dial and McDonald.

McDonald is being hailed as a sort of savior. He already is signed up for a weekly television show in which he'll keep the fans informed of developments.

Dial was the first star of the home run pass obtained by Dallas and that brought plenty of enthusiasm. But when McDonald was snared, it brought ecstatic response, because he would make the threat double.

Phillies Trip Baltimore in 11 Innings

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bob Johnson's error in the bottom of the 11th inning let Johnny Briggs score the winning run Monday night as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Baltimore Orioles 2-1 in an exhibition game

Briggs doubled off losing pitcher Bill Hunter and went to third on Cookie Rojas' single to right. Costen Shockley rifled a pitch back to first baseman John Orsino. Orsino, trying to cut the run off at the plate, threw back to catcher Dick Brown. Briggs semed to be trapped, but he twisted away and scored when Johnson, the third baseman flubbed Brown's toss

A 20-year-old minor league pitcher, Frank Bertaina, called up from Elmira in the Eastern League to work in the exhibition made a good bid for a job with the Orioles. He pitched the first nine innings and gave up only five hits while striking out 10. Bertaina walked only four. Two of them were intentional passes.

Rozelle Denies Plans For League Expansion

Admits Atlanta Would be Good NFL Location

ATLANTA (AP)—Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the National Football League said Monday the NFL has no plans for expansion at the present time.

Rozelle told the Atlanta Constitution that all present franchises appear to be firmly entrenched. At the same time he said he did not want to be too pessimistic about Atlanta's chances to enter the league.

"Generally speaking, Atlanta with a new stadium would have to be considered an attractive city for an NFL franchise," he said.

"At this time, however, we have no plans to explore cities toward possible expansion," he said by telephone from New York. "The prevailing feeling is that our two new clubs, Minnesota and Dallas, needed more time to become more competitive before expansion is seriously approached."

Atlanta lost a chance Sunday for an NFL franchise when the St. Louis Cardinals decided to remain in that city.

Rozelle said, however, that many NFL clubs believe the league could operate advantageously with 16 teams instead of the present 14.

Cites Fan Interest

"Many clubs, possibly even a majority, feel that fan interest would be better with 16 teams," Rozelle said. "We could divide into two eight-team conferences, likely the East and West, and then slice each of these into four-team divisions.

"This way, no club would finish lower than fourth in its division, and you would eliminate the situation we now have of one team in each division finishing seventh."

Rozelle pointed out that a majority is not enough to approve expansion or transfer of a franchise. Twelve of the 14 teams must approve.

Ted Williams To Undergo Surgery Today

Retired Bosox Star Seeks Relief From Spinal Problem

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams—last of the 400 hitters and first on the player casualty lists—will undergo surgery at New England Baptist Hospital today.

The retired Boston Red Sox slugger was told Monday he had to have an operation to relieve pressure on a nerve caused by a ruptured disc.

Williams has been a patient at the hospital since July 18 and in traction much of the time.

The spinal problem is not new for the six-time former American League batting champion with 521 lifetime home runs. He has previously been hospitalized and in traction although the fact was not generally known.

The surgeon, who asked his name not be used, said the man who is a virtual certainty for the Hall of Fame first complained of a leg pain

Williams is believed to have brought on the latest flare-up while playing golf. Ted is listed as a Red Sox executive assistant

He went to the hospital from his boys camp in Lakeville, 30 miles south of Boston. A camp spokesman said the condition "had piled up on him."

Williams hit for a .406 average in 1941, then came back at the age of 39 to bat .388 in 1957. His feats were the more amazing in view of the fact he missed the equivalent of five full seasons during his big league career.

In early 1953 Williams survived a crash landing he made with his burning, bullet-riddled jet fighter in Korea. A few months later medics sent him home with ear and nose ailments.

His ailment-plagued playing days started in July 1939 when he suffered an appendicitis attack but put off an operation. He missed about 10 days in 1955 with a back ailment. At the time it was announced as the inflammation of a muscle in the back, otherwise known as lumbago

The other Williams mishaps:

7-14-50—Fractured left elbow making catch in first inning of All-Star game, played through to the ninth. Missed 65 games.

3-1-54—Tumbled trying for a catch, opening day of spring training, fractured collarbone and required operation, spent remainder playing days with steel pin in shoulder. Missed 37 games.

1955—Back, pneumonia and marital troubles benched him 56 games.

Clay and Liston Sign Minus Usual Ballyhoo

Rematch Slated Sometime Between Sept. 15 and Oct. 31

LOUISVILLE, Ky (AP)—Minus the ballyhoo that usually attends such functions, heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay has signed for a rematch this fall with Sonny Liston—the man he dethroned last February.

Although the site and date have not been decided, the 22-year-old champ modestly predicts "I'm going to make this the greatest fight in history I have a great many surprises for the next fight—surprises in my prediction on my strategy and on some trainers I'm bringing in "

He had a surprise Monday too, not in the fact he signed with Liston but in the way it happened

Shuns Promotion

The Louisville Lip, who earned a reputation for a flare for publicity before he won the title Feb 25 at Miami, Fla, shunned the usual signing promotion It was hush-hush from the time he signed the contract until the agreement papers were taken to Philadelphia where Liston signed Monday night

Jack Nilons who represented Liston at the Louisville signing flew to Philadelphia, where Liston had flown from Denver

Bill Faversham, Clay's manager, said the target date for the fight is Monday, Sept 28, but that the boxers have agreed only to a meeting sometime between Sept. 15 and Oct 31

Clay said he would like to fight in Louisville, but that Las Vegas and Baltimore also are in the running

He picked his hometown because "I'd like to have the honor of bringing the first heavyweight championship fight to the city where people saw me grow up to become the champion—the greatest "

Mostest Money

However, he added, "it's up to the men puttin' on the fight They're gonna put it where they can get the biggest guarantee—the mostest money That's what I want, too—the money "

Clay, a bit hefty at 226 pounds, flew to Louisville from his Miami training site for the signing He said he may do some of his training in Egypt or Ghana—among the places he visited during a recent world tour

A member of the Black Muslim sect, Clay signed the contract "Muhammad Ali, AKA (Also Known As) Cassius M Clay Jr "

Faversham said, "I think this is the right fight—I think Liston deserves the chance Cassius is very confident that he will keep the title—and that he will take on another top challenger in the spring "

The boxers camps agreed that a Louisville promoter for the fight will have to guarantee between $300 000 and $350,000 for the boxers

Even Split

The contract calls for both fighters to get 30 per cent of the gross receipts Clay received 22½ per cent and Liston 37½ per cent in the February match

The fight will be put on by Intercontinental Promotions Inc, which promoted the first match between the two Liston had stock in Intercontinental but said he has disposed of it

It will be Liston's first return to the ring since he lost the title by failing to answer the bell for the start of the seventh round in Miami Liston knocked out Floyd Patterson in one round for the title and then repeated his first-round victory over Patterson in the first defense

Senators Stave Off Mets' Rally For 6-4 Victory

Cellar-Dwellers Battle at Hall of Fame Celebration

COOPERSTOWN N Y (AP)—The observance of the 25th anniversary of baseball's Hall of Fame offered a bizarre contrast

Many of the all time greats were on hand Monday to see seven new members including Luke Appling, inducted into the Hall

Then, everyone adjourned to the relatively small Doubleday Field where an exhibition game matched the major leagues two last-place teams the New York Mets and the Washington Senators

The Senators, who were 25 games behind in the American League pennant race held off a ninth-inning rally for a 6-4 victory over the Mets who trail by 28 games in the National League

Johnson Sends Wire

At the start of the formal ceremonies Commissioner Ford Frick read a telegram from President Johnson The President said

'May I extend my congratulations on the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Baseball Hall of Fame Baseball has made an important contribution to our American way of life and the Hall of Fame has made a laudable contribution in perpetuating the tradition of baseball and the memory of its outstanding players "

It's fortunate for baseball that something or someone has done something to perpetuate the game's tradition The Mets and Senators haven't done too much

Four of the Hall's new members—Appling Heinie Manush, Burleigh Grimes and Red Faber—were present for the World Series of Futility The deceased—Miller Huggins Tim Keefe and John Montgomery Ward—were represented by members of their families

Appling now a coach with the Kansas City Athletics, played shortstop for 20 years with the White Sox, winning the batting title with a 388 average in 1936 and a 328 mark in 1943 He was elected to the Hall last year by the Baseball Writers Association The other six were chosen by the Old Timers Committee

20-Year Career

Manush batted 330 over 17 seasons leading the AL with 378 in 1926 Faber and Grimes were two of the more well known exponents of the spit ball Faber won 253 games during his 20-year career with the White Sox while Grimes played 19 years with seven teams winning 270 games

Keefe a pitcher before 1900 recorded 345 victories Ward also played before the turn of the century standing out as both a hitter and a pitcher Huggins managed the New York Yankees to six pennants in eight years

There were no prospective Hall of Famers in the exhibition contest But Washington's Don Blasingame tied a 10-year-old record in the game by collecting four hits in his first four times at bat

George Altman homered for the Mets in the fifth while Larry Elliot tried to help the Mets escape 20th place by slamming a two-run homer in the ninth

Hutchinson in Hospital for Cancer Tests

Reds' Manager To be Sidelined At Least 3 Days

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson has countless thousands pulling for him in his fight with cancer, but there are few more loyal, or solemn, rooters than his Reds in their daily battle for the National League pennant

The third-place Reds flew to Milwaukee in charge of coach Dick Sisler Monday after Hutchinson entered Cincinnati's Christ Hospital for "tests" expected to take several days

The Reds were reluctant to talk about their manager's illness as they opened a three-game series with an 11-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves Typical comment included 'Sure hope he's back soon . hate to hear it that's too bad He's a great guy as well as a great manager "

Sisler said that the 44-year-old Hutchinson complained of back pains and decided to check into the hospital after a Sunday doubleheader with Pittsburgh

At Cincinnati, club President Bill DeWitt said We've no idea how long he'll be in (the hospital) It'll take two or three days to see what the situation is "

Hutchinson, a former major league pitcher was stricken with cancer in the upper chest several months ago The illness was disclosed when he checked into the Tumor Institute in Swedish Hospital at Seattle Wash last January

After a series of treatments which appeared to be successful, Hutch was permitted to join the Reds for the start of spring training in Florida He said at the time he had been advised to take things easier than usual

His admittance to the hospital in Cincinnati marked the third time that he has left the club He took itme off for a one-day visit to Swedish Hospital shortly after the start of the season He went to the same hospital again for one day in June and the only announcemtn was that no further treatment was required at the time

'All Pulling Hard'

"We're all pulling hard for him " Sisler said "The players of course all know of his condition, but they don't like to talk about it They respect him and like him and are trying their level best to win to ease his problems

'They're giving everything in their power If there's such a thing as second effort they're giving it There's no way of telling for sure what goes through an athlete's mind but I think they're trying harder "

Despite his illness Hutch has carried a full work load except for additional rest periods Only last week he insisted his biggest worry was winning the pennant And at the mid season break at the All-Star game in New York he denied emphatically rumors he intended to step down as manager

FLY FISHING IN THE SHALLOWS OF A STREAM

As the sun warms shallow waters first each day, the first fly hatches usually occur in slow current between bank and swift edge (A) of a stream to keep in time with hatch's progress, an angler can use nymphs before flies emerge then switch to wet or dry flies as flies appear by working quietly upstream, 25' to 30' casts will do. LL Official Blasts Joey Jay For Criticizing Program

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa (AP)—Little League Baseball, Inc took issue Monday with pitcher Joey Jay of the Cincinnati Reds, who criticized organized baseball program for youngsters

"By his ill-considered comments Jay has not enhanced his own image as the first former Little Leaguer to go to the major leagues said Robert H Sturrat, Little League director of public relations

Jay was quoted in an interview Friday as saying he intended to discourage his son from participating in the Little League program

"I was amazed to find they have what they call a Little League farm group in which my 7 year-old son Stephan, could play That is far too young for organized training in something that is supposed to be fun Jay was quoted

Jay said he also felt parental involvement was a stumbling block for a young boy playing in the Little Leagues

Stirrat said there was no record at Little League headquarters here that Jay's son "is now or ever has been a member of a Little League farm team."

"The parental situation to which he referred," Stirrat said, "does not take place in Little League It is ironic that more than 300 youngsters in his home city of Middletown, Conn, participate in a highly successful and scrupulously conducted Little League farm team program that bears his name "

Sturrat added

"As a member of a major league team, Jay cannot justify his ignorance of the great numbers of former Little Leaguers now coming into organized baseball This year there were Little League grads on the roster of every major league club and currently more than 300 such young men are under contract to teams in organized baseball "

Share Prices Drift Lower

Experts See Period Of Slackness Before New Upward Swing

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued a slow retreat as trading dragged early this afternoon

Although there was some steadying among recent losers, the general market picture was drab and unexciting

Wall Streeters saw the list as going through another of its periods of slackness which usually follow a strong upsurge

The trend was lower among rails, farm implements, motors, rubbers, utilities, airlines and chemicals

Steels were irregular, along with retails and rubbers

The business news was encouraging, including word of a boom in machine-tool orders, a leading indicator of industrial expansion plans

But stock analysts felt the market was shaking down to a base from which a future rally might be mounted

U S Steel, which reports on quarterly results after the market close was easy Republic Steel lost a fraction Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin rose slightly

Losses of about a point were taken by International Harvester, Caterpillar Kennecott and Eastman Kodak

Korvette slipped a couple of Points Polaroid nearly 2, U S Smelting close to a point

Small gains were made also by Southern Railway American Airlines Liggett & Myers and Sears Roebuck

Most of the top auto stocks lost ground, General Motors slipping about a point while Ford (ex dividend) Chrysler and American Motors declined fractionally

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange in quiet trading

Corporate and U S government bonds were mostly steady

$5,000 Needed to Finance Attorneys

County-Paid Counsel Fees Increase in Outagamie County

County officials Monday placed $5,000 in the court budget to finance county-paid attorneys for the remainder of this year and speculated that next year indigent attorney fees may be doubled.

Court-appointed attorneys since January have submitted fees totaling $4,000, and have contributed to depletion of the $10,000 fund which Outagamie County Court Branch 2 had established for special contract services.

County officials Monday said that "something had to be done" in future budget hearings to establish a "fixed" price for county-hired attorney costs. Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer said the county finds 'no fault" with the indigent program, but is hoping to be able to finance the program with funds taken in tax levies.

Emergency Bequest

The $5,000 emergency bequest to the court will be taken from the county's general fund, Alvin Woehler, county business administrator said. Woehler said that such fees may go as high as $15,000 in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2 next year, and that two other courts may have fees as high as $10,000.

County executives talked with Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer Monday afternoon who agreed that the funds "could just as well be used to hire one person to do defense work for the county."

Schaefer and executive committee members agreed that high court costs for attorneys "are pushing us in the direction of a public defender position."

Schaefer said he and County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath would query other counties to see how or if public defender posts are being considered and how they would operate.

Schaefer said that an investigation is taken on each defendant to deterime if he is eligible for indigent appointments. To have a county-paid attorney appointed, the court must determine that the defendant has no funds or property and is without means to hire his own attorney.

Established Rates

The appointed-attorney is named by the court and the attorney submits his bill, using rates established by the state bar association.

Woehler said that attorneys have refused to extend special or lower rates for indigent cases and have closed the door on a legal aid society program in Outagamie County. Attorneys maintain that each office and attorney contributes a certain portion of his time to "indigent" cases, but the program is unorganized.

Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer said an orderly procedure to assure that funds will be available in 1964 is necessary. He said the indigent program is apparently statewide, and other counties are having difficulties financing the program.

Rock Island State Park a Unique Area

Conservation People Want to Keep Land's Wilderness Character

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON New Rock Island State Park off the tip of the Door county peninsula in Lake Michigan will be managed with an awareness that it will be one of the unique recreational areas of the Middlewest.

State Conservation Department officials say they intend to design developments with a purpose of preserving the "wilderness" character of the 900-acre island which came into state ownership last week after years of discussion about its desirability and negotiations with private owners. The purchase price was $175,000.

John Beale, state superintendent of forests and parks, said he has not yet completed development and management plans for submission to the Conservation Commission, but that he regards the preservation of the wilderness beauty and the comparative isolation of the island as essential conditions.

Beale said he probably will recommend a dredging and enlargement of the comparatively small boat harbor and dock developed by the previous owner, and that the large boathouse will probably be preserved as a shelter for visitors. Camping facilities will be provided in a conservative way and hiking trails will be marked and cut through the forest of hardwoods and conifers.

Causeway Considered

There has been informal discussion of the wisdom of constructing a causeway from nearby Washington Island for foot and vehicle traffic, but Beale said a decision on that question may not be made for some time. He noted that the state agency's experience with a state-owned island park in the Apostle Island chain has shown that with the heavy increase in the ownership of boats among today's vacationers, use of an island park is heavy without a land access.

The experience will probably be keptt in mind by state officials as they plan the development of the recreational use of Rock Island, which is more accessible in distance terms to the population centers of Wisconsin and the Middle West.

Beale said the state ultimately may provide parking facilities on Washington Island and at the tip of the peninsula for the use of Rock Island visitors and campers. Among the first improvements on the island will be the construction of sanitary facilities. Some of the buildings of the old private estate will be dismantled, but the choice has not yet been definitely made.

Heavy Rain, High Winds Whip State

Property Damaged, 3 Persons Injured By Thunderstorm

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rain accompanied by high winds ripped across areas of eastern and central Wisconsin Monday afternoon and night, injuring at least three persons and damaging property.

Harold Buckingham, 21, of Dodgeville was struck by lightning, authorities reported, while milking a cow on his father's farm. He was knocked unconscious but a Dodgeville hospital reported later that he was "getting along fine."

A 17-year-old Kenosha youth was injured when the wind blew him and the motorcycle he was riding into a traffic sign on Milwaukee's South Side.

Good Condition

An unidentified Madison woman was cut by flying glass, police said. She refused hospital treatment.

The storm moved southeast across Wisconsin after temperatures had reached the nineties and centered around the Madison area, where police reported receiving more than 200 calls of wires down and trees damaged.

Window Broken

The roof of the police boathouse on Lake Mendota was blown off and a large display window in the Woolworth store in an East Side shopping center was broken.

In Green Bay, some telephone and power lines were knocked down, police said. Trees and wires also were downed in Oshkosh, Manitowoc, Appleton and Little Chute.

In Milwaukee, some trees and wires were knocked down and the Electric Co. reported several minor power failures.

The heaviest rain recorded officially was 1.94 inches within six hours at La Crosse. Madison had 1.54, Green Bay .70, Pewaukee .69, Beloit .48, Racine .22 and Lone Rock .11.

The mercury reached 97 degrees at La Crosse Monday. Eau Claire had 96, Beloit 95, Madison and Lone Rock 92, Milwaukee 90, Park Falls 89, Racine 88 and Superior 84.

U.S. Ready to Increase Viet Nam Manpower

3,000 Advisers, Training Personnel Included; 5 More American Servicemen Slain

BY PETER ARNETT

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist guerrillas killed four American servicemen today as the U S government made plans for a boost in its military manpower in South Viet Nam

One of the dead was a U S Army major, shot to death by a Viet Cong platoon in broad daylight in the middle of a Roman Catholic village 10 miles northwest of Saigon

Two U S Army officers and an Air Force man were killed by a mine set off under their jeep as they drove in a convoy of five vehicles on a road 21 miles south of Saigon

The toll of Americans killed in action in this Communist-menaced nation since December 1961 rose to 163

Increase by 3,000

Up to 3,000 more American military advisers and training personnel may be sent to swell the U S force of about 16,200 already in the country

No extension of the limited combat role of the Americans was in prospect, however

The South Vietnamese government announced the new buildup Monday after a conference between Premier Nguyen Khanh and U S Ambassador Maxwell D Taylor

A U S spokesman said the arrival of personnel would be gradual, and the number now planned might be changed as circumstances developed

"This increase in U S aid as well as other aid from friendly countries granted at the request of the Vietnamese government should be construed as a warning to the Communists in Hanoi (the capital of North Viet Nam." Khanh's government said

Guerrilla War Experts

"The free world has decided to help the Vietnamese government and Vietnamese people to fight for freedom and independence Besides, it should not be forgotten that this aid is a demonstration of U S. determina-

Khanh Hints at War on North

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Nguyen Khanh hinted today his government would go it alone if it decided to take the war to Communist North Viet Nam and the United States refused to give its backing

"Viet Nam is free in her activities," Khanh asserted to newsmen after receiving commander of U S forces in the Pacific, Adm U S. Grant Sharp, who arrived in Saigon on his first visit

Khanh was asked if outh Viet Nam can attack the North with or without the United States. Khanh and his Cabinet ministers have een whipping up local feeling in recent weeks over the possibility of returnin in force to the Communist North.

The United States opposes this move at the present time

Rockefeller Says Extremism Cause Of Rochester Riots

BY GENE SCHROEDER

ROCHESTER, N Y (AP)—Violence-ridden Rochester, described by Gov Nelson A Rockefeller as a victim of extremism, struggled today to regain a semblance of normalcy from a bloody weekend of race rioting

With its uneasy peace being enforced by hundreds of helmeted city and state police the city was paid a surprise visit Monday by the governor

No Link With Others

Declaring that the racial violence was clear evidence of extremism that cannot be justified, Rockefeller said he found no evidence of outside agitators, however

He said he felt that there was no connection with the race violence which ripped through New York's Harlem and a Negro area of Brooklyn

The relative quiet in Rochester prompted hopes that some solution could be found to curb the simmering unrest before the week was out

Troopers Stand By

Rochester's racial strife—fomented by thousands of Negroes and some whites—left a tragic toll of four dead, at least 350 injured and millions of dollars in property damage

Combat-ready National Guardsmen 1 500 strong, stood by prepared to wield bayonets and rifle butts, if necessary, to preserve law and order

The guardsmen rolled into Rochester Sunday night on orders from Rockefeller who acted at the request of local officials

City and state police, backed by firemen with high-pressure hoses, were unable to enforce a dusk-to-dawn curfew Saturday night and Sunday morning

But a show of force by the troops rumbling through the darkened streets in trucks had a sobering effect on the rampaging, pilaging mobs

After his tour of the Negro sections—lined with boarded-up store windows shattered by bricks and bottles—Rockefeller conferred for 90 minutes with local officials and officers of the National Guard and state police

The governor told newsmen later that "the problem now is the preservation of law and order, getting back to normalcy "

The governor said the guard and the 400-man force of state troopers would be kept on duty "as long as necessary "

"As governor and as a citizen " he declared, "I deplore this kind of violence This is not the way to achieve progress in a democratic society "

Narcotics Official Charges Threats to Silence Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal narcotics commissioner Henry L Girodano charged today that drug peddling mobsters hide behind a loophole in the federal law while using threats of murder in efforts to silence witnesses against them

In testimony prepared as a leadoff witness in a new Senate probe of the illicit traffic in narcotic drugs, Giordano said federal law now provides no penalty for threatening a potential witness in advance of the formal start of judicial proceedings in which he would testify

New Legislation Sought

The commissioner appealed to the Senate Investigations subcommittee to back legislation to impose severe penalties on such intimidation tactics He also endorsed a bill by the subcommittee s chairman, Sen John L Mc Clellan D-Ark , which would legalize telephone wire taping by the police but only if authorized by secret court order

Even without these requested new laws, Giordano said his worldwide network of undercover agents has been making "substantial progress in its war on the drug peddling underworld, particularly the traffic in the dangerous narcotic drug heroin

However he said there has been a disturbing rise in the smuggling of addicting cocaine to the United States from Cuba

Castro Again Assails U. S. but Wants Talks

Promises to Shoot Back if 'Another Man Is Murdered'

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP)—Fidel Castro launched a new attack at the United States Monday night, declaring that Cuba will "answer shot for shot" if "another man is murdered" by U S Marines at the Guantanamo naval base

The Cuban prime minister held a 3½-hour news conference for 33 American newsmen visiting Cuba at his invitation and 40 other foreign newsmen who came to Santiago for the celebration of his 26th of July revolutionary movement

Castro again rejected the U S denial of his charge that U S Marines killed a Cuban sentry at the Guantanamo border two weeks ago

'What is important is that we believe and know that this happened, and the Soviet Union also knows it " Castro said

"If another of our men is murdered, we will not have another alternative but to answer shot for shot independently of what the American government believes or not

'The Soviet Union knows if we are forced to take measures we would not be looking for war "

Won't Cut Red Ties

Castro made clear that he would not give up his ties with the Soviet Union to improve relations with the United States

"The United States tries to maintain a cold war with us and at the same time wants to improve relations with the Soviet Union," he said

"That objective will not be accomplished Cuba will not tol-

Hope Fading for 14 Men Trapped In French Mine

CHAMPAGNOLE, France (AP)—Hope began to fade today for 14 men entombed for almost 24 hours in a limestone mine in the Jura Mountains of eastern France

A drill pipe sunk through 128 feet of mud and rock broke through into an intact part of the mine Rescuers lowered a highly sensitive listening device down the 6-inch tube but heard only the sound of dripping water and falling stones

Officials said the absence of human sounds was 'very disturbing " They said the men would have come to the point where the pipe pierced the mine roof if they were alive and well

One official said it was possible that the area of the mine under the drill pipe was cut off from where the men were sheltering But in that case the rescuers face new and formidable difficulties when they break through into the mine

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla (AP) — The Ranger 7 spacecraft was rocketed toward the moon today with the mission of taking several thousand closeup photographs of areas where American astronauts may land in 1969

The great rocket 104 feet tall and weighing 138 tons spouted a torrent of red-orange flame and sent a thunderous roar rolling across Cape Kennedy as it barreled away from its launching pad

The early portion of the flight appeared normal as the big booster pitched over on a southeast heading and streaked from sight after about three minutes

Bomb in London Creates Chaos

LONDON (AP)—A smoking incendiary bomb from World War II threw traffic in London s downtown business district into chaos for more than three hours today

But army engineers—after a cautious watch of the smouldering missile—finally loaded it into a water tank and hauled it off to a gunnery range in the country to be exploded

The street was closed to traffic and huge jams built up along narrow diversion routes Two subway lines passing underneath the site were sealed off for two hours

The bomb apparently was one of the thousands rained on London by the Germans 20 or more years ago during World War II

BY COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons soon to dissolve into a bitter election battle united today for a tribute to Sir Winston Churchill

Before the lower house of Britain s Parliament was a motion recording its gratitude for his services to Parliament Britain and the world No other man has been so honored since the Duke of Wellington more than a century ago

Sir Winston Absent

Churchill was not to be present to hear the motion adopted He visited the House Monday for the last time as a member

He will be 90 in November For the first time in 64 years he is not contesting a seat at the election in the fall

Crowds gathered outside the Commons to cheer him as he arrived and as he left Monday The galleries were crowded The bent old figure shuffled to his seat at question time For nearly an hour he listened then rose unaided

With friends at his side he walked slowly to the exit, gave a brief glance back at the scene of his many battles and was gone

This was the text of the Commons motion

Sir Winston Churchill That this House desires to take this opportunity of marking the forthcoming retirement of the Rt Honorable Gentleman the member for Woodford by putting on record its unbounded admiration and gratitude for his services to Parliament, the nation and the world

Remembers above all his inspiration of the British people when they stood alone and his leadership until victory was won and offers its grateful thanks to the Rt Honorable Gentleman for these outstanding services to this house and to the nation

That a committee be appointed to wait upon the Rt Honorable Gentleman and convey to him the thanks of this House

'That the prime minister, Mr Harold Wilson, Mr J Grimond, Sir Thomas Moore and Mr Emanuel Shinwell be members of the committee '

Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home leads the Conservative party Wilson the Labor party and Grimond the Liberals Moore and Shinwell are veteran members

By coincidence the tribute came 50 years to the day after a typically Churchillian episode.

Villages' School Budget Approved After Word Battle

$1,240,030 Outlay Is Passed; Discuss Business Manager Job

KIMBERLY—Almost 100 voters of Joint School District No. 6 approved the 1964-65 budget of $1,240,030, but not before a sharp verbal clash from the floor on district economics.

The budget approved is up $165,444 from last year's figure, $1,074,586. This year's tax levy will be $1,065,610, with state, county and federal aids totaling $93,500.

The disagreement broke open when Eugene Schelfhout, who resigned from the board a year ago but was re-elected Monday night and returned to office after the general meeting, questioned retention of a part-time district business manager.

In questioning the auditor's report prior to adoption of the budget, Schelfhout said the part-time post was created while he was a member of the board and was to be a temporary position to last only until the new high school was in operation.

Big Increase

Schelfhout said since 1960, the number of students had increased 140 per cent, the budget 175 per cent and the administrative staff 450 per cent.

He said the same proposal came up in the Kaukauna district twice and was voted down twice. "The school board president of Kaukauna, Marshall Bayergeon, who has been in that position for 25 years, and former superintendent, Olin Dryer, who headed the district for 20 years voted against it," Schelfhout said.

"Let's take a clue from the wisdom and experience of these people and hold some of these expenses down. If Kaukauna doesn't need it, why do we?", Shelfhout continued.

Board member Mrs. Marie Ruys said, "Let Kaukauna do what it will. If we feel Kimberly needs a part-time business manager to make the district operate better, that's for Kimberly to decide."

Board President Harold Wentzel said the board felt the superintendent's time should not be spent visiting salesmen but rather in supervising teachers and curriculum methods. He said this was why a part-time business manager was named. He added he couldn't remember

The budget as presented to the electorate Monday night is $408,161 below that of last year because of the large capital outlay for the additions of nine elementary classrooms plus the pool and related facilities.

Capital Outlay

During the 1963-64 year capital outlay was $110,083 as compared to $61,250 being set aside this year.

Since two years ago, 1962-63, the tax rate has jumped from $9.92 to $14.37. Supt. A. W. Gordon said the jump was due to an increase of 200 students during the 2-year period.

A decrease of $18,662 in receipts is expected from $187,682 last year to $169,020 expected this year.

General control expenditures will climb from $14,324 last year to $17,175 this year, an increase of $2,850.

Eight New Teachers

Instruction costs will be up $39,086 from $247,686 last year to $286,772 for the upcoming school term Accounting for this is an addition of eight teachers plus extra offerings on the curriculum.

Teacher salaries, included in the above estimate, will jump to $266,321 from $230,022 last year. Other items are textbooks, $3,070; library, $3,375, and supplies, $4,500.

A total of $39,500 is set aside for operational expense as compared with $35,466 last year, up $4,034.

Auxiliary services are up $10,642 from $28,658 last year to an anticipated $39,300 this year. Making up the total is $9,300, school lunch salaries; $20,000, food, supplies and expense; salaries and recreation, $3,000; supplies and expense, $2,000 and clearing of supplies sold, $5,000.

Community services including adult recreation, lectures and classes, will cost approximately $2,200.

Debt service expense for the upcoming year is expected to reach $66,350 this year as compared to $124,720 last year.

This does not include short term notes which will be taken out by the school board until the taxes start coming in during the first part of 1965.

Other Revenue

Revenues other than taxes on this year's budget are topped by an expected $40,000 in state aid. County aid will remain relatively stable at $4,900 and district and individual tuition will total $3,840 for the year.

Federal aid for lunch program will be $5,500; National Defense Educator Act, $900; homemaking and agriculture, $2,300, and NDEA Title III (math, science) and foreign language labratory equipment $1,000.

4 Terrorized In Cottage by Chicago Youth

Jailed in Oconto After Capture by Deputies Sunday

Post-Crescent News Service

OCONTO—An 18-year-old Chicago youth, accused of terrorizing four persons in a cottage in northern Oconto County and forcing one of them to accompany him on a 50-mile ride into Forest County, was captured early Sunday near Laona.

The youth, Ralph MacEwen, was jailed at Oconto. He was to be charged, possibly with kidnaping.

Oconto County Undersheriff Rupert Haave said the incident happened Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tower of Milwaukee, who have a cottage at Bagley Rapids on the Oconto River near Mountain, told authorities the youth entered the cottage about 10 p.m. They said he was carrying a rifle and long bladed knife.

Ordered to Sit

The Towers said the youth ordered them, their nine-year-old daughter Kathy, and Ray Kirsten, Green Bay, who was visiting the Towers, to sit on the davenport. Kirsten, who lives at 314 Bonnie Court, was vacationing in the area. Haave said the Towers told him the youth ordered Mrs. Towne to cook him some food. He sat at a table with the rifle pointed at the others.

Near midnight, he announced he was going to Wyoming and would take Mrs. Tower as a hostage. Tower asked the youth to take him instead of his wife and offered the use of his car.

Taken at Gunpoint

Around midnight, the youth took Tower at Gunpoint from the cottage and forced Tower to drive him into Forest County.

After they left, Kirsten went in a boat downstream to find a telephone. He notified the Oconto County sheriff's office about 12.15 a.m Haave notified Forest County authorities and joined three carloads of deputies in the search.

Tower said the youth stopped the car north of Laona, got out and told Tower to return home.

MacEwen was found hiding behind a service station between Laona and Crandon. Haave said he started to run but stopped after a warning shot was fired He was captured about 3:30 a m

Board Head Says Education Unequal

Seymour to Investigate School Units

SEYMOUR — Seymour Community School District schools do not offer equal educational opportunity for its children, district electors were told Monday.

The charge came from the district board's president Walter Muehl, who said he would appoint a citizens' group to study ways of correcting the deficiencies.

The group will study present facilities and future needs, he said, and report at a special meeting or at the next annual meeting.

Things to Be Studied

Among things to be considered, Muehl said, would be needs for kindergarten outside the Seymour area, feasibility of one or more junior high schools, vocational education and improving and expanding of science facilities.

In the latter instance, he said, it was only a few years ago district schools offered only five classes in science. Now there are 24.

Muehl said he would name the committee at a future board meeting. One person from each zone of the district would be included, he said.

Approve Budget

Electors approved a record $1,222,136 budget calling for a tax levy of $844,067 at a mill rate of $14.90 per $1,000 of equalized valuation. The levy is up $10,000, but the tax rate is the same as last year.

Muehl said three additional elementary schools — Idlewild, Cherry Hill and Spring Brook—would be closed. The move, he said, was designed to shift more children to one school and to improve the education of each according to his abilities.

He said the district's administrator was one of the lowest paid in the state according to comparative data with district's approximately the same size.

Ride Same Buses

The board president also told electors high school and elementary students attending school in Seymour will ride on buses together. This, he said, would reduce bus riding time.

Milo Rettler was elected without opposition to replace Veryl Sievert on the board. Re-elected were Muehl, Herman Wussow and Harvey Maass. A total of 136 electors cast ballots.

During the board session, Muehl was re-elected president; Ken Zeitler, vice president; Mrs. Joan Melchert, clerk, and Ing Vego, treasurer.

Tax Rate Down 60 Cents

Weyauwega Electors Okay $104,147 Budget For School District

WEYAUWEGA — A tax levy calling for a mill rate of $7.20—down 60 cents—per $1,000 equalized valuation was approved at the annual meeting of the Weyauwega Joint School District No. 1.

The total local tax levy will be $66,813. Cutting of the rate was possible because annexation of the Lynwood and Galilee school district's from the Town of Saxeville had raised the district's evaluation to $9,015,000.

Also, the $104,147 budget is down $13,600 from last year because no new buses are needed and last year a bus garage at the Union High School was built.

Loan Authorized

C. B. Petersen and Mrs. Idalyn Bratz were re-elected to the five-man board of education.

A short term loan not to exceed $50,000 was authorized. The money will be used until tax monies are received from the city and townships of the district sometime in January or February.

Electors also authorized the board to dispose of buildings or purchase land if necessary. The two buildings being considered for sale are the Lynwood and Galilee schools. Former Supt. H. James said it may be necessary to purchase land the schools sit on to clear titles.

Other business conducted was the setting of a 180-day school year—starting Aug. 27, approval of student insurance program which covers children from the time they leave home until their return, approval of the school hot lunch program for another year and setting salaries of board members which will remain at $100 each.

Ramsdell said bus routes have been scheduled and elementary and high school students will be transported on the same buses. Kindergarten students also will be transported, he said.

Appleton Unit Asks for New Post Office

Officials of the Chamber of Commerce have been in contact with the U.S. Postal Department, citing the need for a new facility here.

The post office, which has been bulging at the seams for years, is located on the southwest corner of Superior and Washington Streets.

In addition, several other small buildings are leased by the postal department to handle the local mail volume.

The Chamber board of directors has asked postal authorities to study the Appleton postal facilities and related problems, and to project plans for a new federal building.

The city is in the process of having a comprehensive plan prepared and would like to know when and where the federal government intends to erect a new post office here.

"In addition to a congested quarters for a growing postal load," the Chamber said, "the federal government locally now houses six agencies in rented quarters."

Congressmen Contacted

Last year, Wisconsin's congressional delegation was contacted to see what the postal department plans are for building a new office in Appleton.

Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) was in touch with the U.S. Postal Department and said there were no plans as such for a new building.

Proxmire suggested at the time that local officials contact the department and express the need for the new facility.

At New London Field

Fly-In to be Dedicated To Organizer's Memory

NEW LONDON — The fifth annual Fly-In Sunday will be dedicated to the late George Else, an organizer of the New London Flyer's Club — Fly-In Sponsors — six years ago.

Else was president of the club when he died in June and had been a director since the club's organization.

The skydiving of the Para-Naut team will headline Fly-In activities. Team members will begin jumping at 9:30 a.m. and will continue throughout the day to make as many jumps as possible, Paul F. Kamke, club treasurer, said.

Trophies

The Fly-In will be held at the New London Airport four miles northeast of here on State 54 A pancake breakfast will be served at 7 a m and refreshments will be available throughout the day.

Kamke said trophies will be awarded to the first pilot arriving, the pilot traveling the farthest, the oldest pilot and to the oldest plane.

He said the club expects 60 to 70 planes, many of them antiques, to come if the weather is favorable.

The two jumpers will bail out from heights up to 10,000 feet, he said, and will use smoke bombs so the audience will be able to spot them

Free Plane Rides

Kamke said the club, numbering 260 members in three categories, would give each new member joining at the air show a free plane ride.

The club started the airport and has been paying for it, buying more equipment and improving the runways with profits from the Fly-In.

Wind, Rain Do More Harm

Lightning Punctuates Cloudburst, Causes Little Damage in Valley

Lightning spectacularly pierced Monday's cloudburst in the Fox Valley area, but in general more damage was reported because of wind and rain than from electrical bolts.

Major lightning damage reported was in New London. A bolt of lightning struck a 4,000-volt primary feeder cable on Division Street. The lightning burned off the cable, but repairs have been made, according to Louis J. Thomas, utility commissioner.

The storm, which moved southeast across central Wisconsin, left branches down and interrupted utility service in its wake.

One hundred telephones on the northwest side of Chilton were put of service because of cable trouble. A bad cable on State Street was discovered about 3 a.m. today. The soaking rain caused disruption of service in the cable.

Cable Downed

Anotner cable was downed when a semi-trailer struck the pole. This was discovered about 3 p.m. Monday and was repaired partially by 9 a.m. today. This damage, on West Main Street, was not necessarily due to the storm, according to reports

Two toll lines originating in Chilton also had disrupted service. The lines, leading to Plymouth and Fond du Lac, are expected to be back in operation today, as are the telephones in the city.

The Wisconsin Public Service Corp. reported four customers in the rural Chilton area had interrupted service, the longest disruption being for one hour. Trouble was caused by lightning and trees being on the line. No other damage was reported.

1.33 Inches of Rain

More than 1.33 inches of rain fell in Clintonville Monday during a 40-minute downpour.

Flooding was so bad FWD Corp. plant storm sewers were unable to handle the rushing water.

The storm began in Clintonville about 2:30 p m Large branches were broken off trees at the Emil Kuehl and Fred Tanner residences on W Fourteenth Street. The limbs were removed by utility crews.

Lightning and wind caused some damage in the Fox Cities area. A false alarm occurred at W. College Avenue and N. Richmond Street in Appleton when a gust of wind knocked over a sand barrel containing a temporary traffic sign. The sign struck the fire alarm box on the corner, broke the pole and sent in the alarm.

51 Miles An Hour Gust

A gust of 51 miles an hour was reported by the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. at 3:30 p.m. in the S. Oneida Street "flats."

Lightning struck the gas meter outside the house of Norman Wankey, 315 S. Arlington St., Appleton, about 5 p m. Flames began to leap from the meter and firemen were called. They shut off the valve and no damage resulted.

Banking by Plane, another Fremont first, began with Earl Boyles, owner of the Orihula Resort flying in to conduct the first such business transaction. Preble Dance Ballroom Fire Loss Estimated at $250,000

GREEN BAY — Damage has been estimated at more than $250,000 in a fire which destroyed Preble's Danceland Ballroom, one of the area's most popular entertainment spots, early Sunday.

Cause of the blaze, which could be seen as far away as Denmark, was not determined immediately. A defective neon sign at the east end of the building is being considered a possibility. The sign was not being used when the fire broke out.

Blackened Walls

Two units from the Green Bay Fire Department assisted Preble firemen in battling the blaze which raged out of control for more than an hour.

Only the blackened walls and a two-story frame apartment structure at the rear of the building remained standing today

There were no injuries, although a tenant in a rear apartment was forced to evacuate. Neighbors helped him to remove furniture and other belongings before the fire worked its way to the rear of the structure.

The 100-by 100-foot building was owned by Joseph Becher, and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Aude. Mrs. Aude was taken to St. Vincent Hospital where she was treated for shock. She remained at the hospital until late Sunday.

Becher constructed the ballroom in 1935, following another fire which destroyed a frame ballroom he and his brother had built in 1917.

Swim Pool at Chilton High Reopens Today

Cosed 2 Days for Repairs to Obsolete Leaky Water Main

CHILTON — The new Margaret Jensen swimming pool will be reopened today after being closed Sunday and Monday due to a broken water main leading into the high school.

Discovered about 7 p.m. Saturday by School Supt. A. W. Gordon in the school's basement, the leaking main became one of the latest in a series of main breaks in the community.

The odd size of the pipe, 2½-inch diameter which was installed in 1935, prompted plumbers to indicate the pool might be closed indefinitely because of the repair problems. Exact location of the break, as in most such water leaks, was a delaying factor in making the repairs.

In this instance, since the plumbers said the cast iron pipe could not be threaded in order to splice in a new piece, the main was sealed by use of a lead sleeve and soldering.

Other broken water mains have been plaguing city workers during the past two weeks. These include the one being repaired at 118 Reed St., the Street immediately across from the Chilton Hotel which was repaired last week and a break on W. Grand Street which became evident during the weekend.

Emergency Menominee Aid Pledged by State Agencies

Crisis in Indians' Government, Economy Cited by Gov. Reynolds

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—Most state agency directors Monday pledged quick compliance with the instructions of Gov. John W. Reynolds for the development of emergency assistance programs for the benefit of the Indians of Menominee County to solve what Reynolds described as a crisis in the government and economy of the new county carved out of a former U. S. Indian reservation.

But the conclusion of a discussion session held here with representatives of the county and the Indian community and high officials of the national government was that the termination of U. S. government control and responsibility for the tribe four years ago was probably an error.

"I don't want to say 'we told you so'," said James Frechette, veteran leader of the Indian community.

But Frechette did so, nevertheless.

Premature Removal

Frechette and other spokesmen for the Indian community said the federal government's removal from the county was premature and unplanned, and that the termination "experiment" can only avoid disaster if the national government is willing to extend substantial additional monetary aid.

George Kenote of Menominee Enterprises, Inc. the community corporation which manages the tribal forest and lumber mill, said the corporation's financial status is dangerously weak and that it needs more working capital.

But with additional federal financial assistance for a period of about five years, he said, "we can work this thing out."

Private citizens of the county renewed their familiar complaints that the termination was cruel and unjust, and unconstitutional because it threw aside treaties of the national government with the Menominee tribe signed many decades ago.

There were also protests against the corporation's leasing of lands on desirable water frontage to outside persons for the erection of cottages and homes. Such practices will ultimately turn over the most desirable lands in the county to outsiders, the officials were warned

State and federal officials expressed their solicitude and cooperative willingness in general terms. But the only specific proposals for immediate action came from the State Conservation Department.

John Beale of that agency disclosed that the department has removed a proposal to the Menominee Corp. for the establishment of a state park in the county that would require the purchase and leasing of some of the Indian lands, and that the department will soon approve a new forest cutting practice plan for the corporation that will enable it to increase its lumber production through a more generous timber cutting allowance.

The State Department of Vocational Education said it is readying a plan for a vocational education program within the county, but it warned that the county doesn't have sufficient tax base to support such an extension of its school services and that the state would probably be required to pay for it.

Fiscal Position Weak

The indifferent fiscal position of the county ran through the discussions as a keynote. The tax base is too restricted to support the services regarded as basic in all other communities, with the result that emergency state assistance is required in spite of the calculations officially made with the establishment of the county in 1961.

Moreover, because that tax base is shrinking slightly and public service costs are increasing, the dependence on the state treasury will become greater unless the national government undertakes to resume its former responsibilities, several officials repeated.

The house was a guest home belonging to Darwin Smith, route 1, Menasha. No one was in the building when the lightning hit.

Both Town of Harrison fire departments were called. They fought the blaze for about 1½ hours.

Damage was estimated by Fire Chief Norbert Holzschuh at about $1,000. It was confined to the attic and the roof.

A fireman from the No. 2 station at Lake Park reportedly struck a pole with his car at the intersection of State 114 and U.S. 10 while on his way to the fire in the heavy rain. He was uninjured, according to reports.

A funnel cloud was reported by residents of High Cliff and Waverly Beach. Waverly residents said they saw the funnel cloud head toward High Cliff over Lake Winnebago.

Residents on the lake near High Cliff reported seeing the cloud dip into the lake.

Collectors Want 'Byrnes For President' Buttons

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—The "Byrnes for President" campaign buttons worn by the Wisconsin delegation during the GOP convention in San Francisco are fast becoming coveted collectors' items, according to Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Green Bay, the state's "favorite son" candidate for Republican presidential nomination at the recent national convention.

Byrnes said that his own supply of the buttons had run out, but that considerable sums had been offered by collectors for them.

The congressman, who returned to Washington this week to appear before the Rules Committee in support of the new Social Security bill reported out of the Ways and Means committee, of which he is top Republican member, made a few observations about the convention which seemed pertinent in retrospect.

"Organized Confusion"

"Like all conventions, its hallmark seemed to be organized confusion," Byrnes commented. "But one thing was apparent from the beginning — Sen. Barry Goldwater would be the nominee, unless something totally unforeseen took place."

Despite this, the congressman said his delegation of 30 persons came completely uncommitted to the convention, and that when he took an informal "poll" on Wednesday, there were "several" who were for Gov. William Scranton. Several others, he said, favored Scranton before the convention, but changed their minds after reaching San Francisco. But he emphasized that they were all "free to act" as they saw fit in so far as their votes were concerned.

From his desk in Washington, Byrnes refused to make any prediction on two areas: when Congress would adjourn and whom the Democrats would choose as President Johnson's running mate.

Antigo Woman Dies Following Home Explosion

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A young Antigo mother of three children whose home was ripped by an explosion July 21 died today at the St. Mary's Hospital Burn Center.

Mrs. Patricia Piekarski, 25, suffered third degree burns on 90 per cent of her body. Her husband, William, also is in the burn center in critical condition.

The children were playing in a neighbor's yard and escaped injury when the blast shattered the home.

Authorities said a service man was to have hooked up a gas water heater told them he found the basement filled with bottle gas fumes. He opened windows to air out the basement and left after warning residents not to light a match.

Church Leader Says Negroes Not for GOP

Pastor Speaks About Political Status at Ecumenical Session

GREEN LAKE—"Right now Negroes aren't wanted in the Republican Party," declared the Rev. Andrew J. Young, member of the staff of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference at a 16-denomination Ecumenical Evangelism Conference now being held at the American Baptist Assembly here.

Theme for this conference, attended by more than 300 leaders from 16 denominations and sponsored by the National Council of Churches, is "Changing Forms of Witness in a Secular Age."

"If the Republicans had nominated a Scranton, Rockefeller or almost anybody else but Goldwater, the Negro would have been welcome in the party," the Rev. Mr. Young said during a question-and - answer period after his talk here Sunday.

He had stated earlier in his talk that Negroes would be going to the Democratic national convention to attempt to put "morality back into politics" in place of "political expediency."

Racism Issue

"We're trying to confront the Democratic Party with racism and ask them to rid themselves of racism. If they don't, we will be prepared to demonstrate," the Rev. Mr. Young stated.

Speaking on the subject "Revolution and Redemption" he talked about concepts of "redemption revolution" of the southern movement and "destructive resolution" which he said was illustrated by current troubles in New York's Hahlem.

"Redemptive revolution is reconciling, it is non - violent. When we have a redemptive revolution people have specific goals. We are meeting with whites to seek specific social change within a community. It is a creative revolution," he said.

In contrast, he said the destructive revolution was irrational, uncontrolled and often Negroes would kill white men who were attempting to help them as being symbolic of racist whites.

Word Battle Comes Before Budget Passage

the board ever making the post temporary

Supt Ray Hamann then added that the part-time business manager was a regular teacher receiving $2 50 an hour for his extra work Hamann said this amounted to about $1 000 yearly extra

I don t care about Kaukauna I feel we re saving money, Hamann said

Schelfhout said the cost of educating the average high school student in Kaukauna last year was $409 and in Kimberly was $536 is this saving money? , he asked

At this point Don Hoh Combined Locks village president said order should be maintained and speakers should be allowed to talk only when recognized Kimberly Village President Alvin Fulcer elected chairman of the meeting, agreed

Hamann said Kaukauna's total number of high school students was far greater than the Kimberly district s, and the per student cost decreased with the number of students

4 Years of Math

Wentzel amplified Hamann s point by saying three years ago Kimberly inaugurated a four year math program and only four students enrolled That one teacher could have handled 25 students Wentzel said He said the smallness of the district creates problems similar to those in four year math and brings the cost per student up

Schelfhout then said the gap between Kimberly and Kaukauna still was too great He said when he was on the board, he brought the cost problem up yearly He said the added benefits all were nice but like a new home — we can have all kinds of luxuries but what can we afford? '

He said the people were being taxed heavily, but is it necessary? '

Board member William J Kluge said to Schelfhout "Apparently 202 people (the number who voted for Schelfhout) think you ve got the answers Maybe in the next three years you can do something

A question came from the floor asking what amount of time was spent by the part-time business manager - teacher in administrative duties

Half Days

Wentzel said the business manager was used as needed, which usually was about half of each day

Hamann said in 1961-62 when Schelfhout was a board member average cost per pupil was $436 He said this figure has dropped to $390, while the state average has gone up to $425 "Are you saying this is uneconomical?", Hamann asked

Schelfhout said the drop was good, but there still was room for much improvement

Wentzel then asked that discussion be closed and the budget was adopted with opposition on a voice vote

Dan Burns a Kimberly resident opposed standard procedure of authorizing the board to take options and purchase land and submitted an alternate proposal allowing the board to take options on up to three parcels of land of not more than 10 acres His motion then called for a special district meeting to determine purchase of land The resolution passed unanimously on a voice vote

Another resolution made from the floor asked that the board prepare and publish prior to district meetings a list of the resolutions it would like passed The motion passed

Publish Budget Figures

Burns made another motion asking that the board publish budget figures for two years previous rather than one year previous prior to district budget meetings effective next year The motion also passed

In other action, citizens voted to

—Set textbook rentals at high school $4 junior high $3 Grades one to six, $2 and shared time students, $1 50

—Retain board salaries at $100 yearly Some board members dissented

—Approve temporary borrowing by the board

—Name Kimberly State Bank district depository

Reynolds Has Wide Choice for Court Job

Governor's Choice Likely to be Democrat With Ability to Conduct Tough Campaign

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Gov John W Reynolds will find a battery of widely known Democratic friends and fellow political veterans available for the first appointment to the State Supreme Court that has come to him since he took over the executive office a year and a half ago

Up to a dozen prominent Democratic lawyers and judges of Democratic background are likely to be considered when the governor contemplates the appointment of a successor to the late Justice William H Dieterich probably within the next week or 10 days

Usually informed sources are speculating that he will make his choice upon the basis of professional stature but with a judicious examination of the candidates' campaign abilities because of the requirement that the man chosen will be required to run for an elective term in the elections next April

Most political observers believe that Howard Boyle of Beaver Dam, who ran a strong race against Justice Horace Wilkie last spring in a bitter and tempestuous campaign, will be a candidate again next spring

The Boyle campaign last spring suggests to politicians that the man Reynolds chooses must be prepared for a hard personal stumping of the state and must have the ability to provide it

Handled Lawsuits

Most observers believe that the list from which the governor will choose will include the names of Leonard Schmitt a Merrill lawyer who has handled some of the governor s biggest lawsuits in his continuing quarrels with the Legislature Roland Day a younger lawyer of Madison who has also acted as counsel for the governor in special proceedings N S Heffernan Reynolds former deputy when he was attorney general and now U S attorney in Madison and Circuit Judge John Coffey of Milwaukee for whom the governor has expressed admiration as the magistrate who has presided in the Reynolds initiated John Doe investigation there

Circuit Judge Robert Landry of Milwaukee, a highly regarded judge with a respectable Democratic pedigree James Doyle an old Madison friend who was boomed heavily by powerful party elements for a federal district judgeship a year ago Robert Dean a county judge at Wausau by appointment of Reynolds a former Democratic legislative leader and Meyer Cohen a close friend and prominent lawyer in Reynolds home city of Green Bay

The fact that Cohen was recently given a coveted appointment to the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin might deter his selection in the view of some observers

Indian Economy Boost

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—A plan for a large state park on the scenic Wolf River within densely wooded Menominee County has been formally revived by the State Conservation Department in a proposal to the Menominee Indian Corp which owns the water front and forest involved

The plan was made public Monday by John Beale head of the department s State Forest Service at a conference called by Gov Reynolds to harness state agency efforts for the economic assistance of the distressed Indian community

Beale said the new park would soon draw hundreds of thousands of visitors to the area and would ultimately infuse the local economy to the extent of at least $500 000 in additional income each year

Area Designated

The area Beale designated for state purchase from Menominee Enterprises Inc includes about 4 340 acres west of Highway 55 north of Feshena in what would include such famous scenic sites as Sullivan Falls Ducknest Falls the Dalles Saturday Islands Big Smoky Falls and about six and one quarter miles of Wolf River frontage where the river is beautiful and turbulent

Beale said the state is also interested in a 480 tract of orginal white pine northwest of the park zone for recreational and natural history study uses but said that acreage could be procured for public use through easements rather than purchase

He said the proposition was submitted to the officials of the Menominee corporation and the county government only a week ago and that reactions toward the idea have not yet been received

No Immediate Comment

There was no immediate comment from the Indian community representatives at the meeting here and Beale did not estimate costs to the state or other details

The natural appeal of the Wolf River the timbered expanse and the ethnic interest of the Monominee people all add up to a tremendous recreational asset which would result in a benefit to the local economy and general well being of county citizens said the department s formal proposal

The department prospectus said the annual attendance at such a Wolf River park should reach 250 000 persons and it said the income value per visitor day is now computed at about two dollars

Zone Location

It noted also that the north central zone of the state does not now have a major park of recreational significance and that the Menominee community is within 100 miles of more than 1 000 000 Wisconsin residents

The idea of a public recreational zone within the Menominee County forest has been discussed at intervals for more than a decade The last overture by the conservation department several years ago foundered when there was an indifferent reception by the Indians and the department found itself lacking the land purchase and development funds such a sizeable venture would require

Need Asserted for Single Authority on Outagamie Holdings

Who will be Outagamie County s "landlord"

County officials posed the question once again in a meeting of the executive committee and once again the question went unanswered

The problem has become paramount in recent months after the county took over hundreds of acres of land for airport purposes in the Town of Greenville and is anticipating a land problem with the old airport and the county farm

Several committees including the parks committee the airport committee and the insurance and property committee have certain landlord ' responsibilities but executives are anxious to have the responsibilities centered on one committee or group

With the diversification of responsibility A W Ponath corporation counsel said it has become impossible to find out what lease requirements certain properties have or when or how rents are collected He said it is impossible to tell a prospective renter how to approach the county and ask about rentals when it is hard to learn who has the power to approve or deny the rental

Alvin Woehler county business administrator said the responsibilities of the property and insurance committee are becoming "too great to adequately take on landlord responsibilities for county-owned lands He said the committee is becoming much too involved with insurance responsibilities and housekeeping chores in the courthouse to be handed responsibility for about 1 400 acres of land

Rochester Riot Began With Arrest of Youth at a Dance

All That Violence and There Was Really Nothing to Win

BY BERNARD GAVZER

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Helen Myricks was pleased with the way things were turning out. There was $80 collected for the playground from the sale of barbecue sandwiches, hot dogs and punch. Now the last record was spinning and the street dance would end. The people, especially the teen-agers, seemed to be enjoying themselves.

Then someone came to Gene Stevens, whose wife, Carrie, was one of the dance organizers with Mrs. Myricks, and said, "Some boy over there is causing a fuss."

Stevens had been keeping an eye on things. This was just a last minute kind of dance for the people on the block. Friday nights had been too full of hell raising in the Negro section as it was. It was wise to keep an eye open. Stevens told the boy to quiet down. So did some others. He wouldn't. So Stevens went to the Myrick's porch where two white patrolmen, Anthony Cerretto and Roger Bacon, were standing.

"That policeman had just been saying to me it was a mighty nice affair and how did I go about organizing it," says Mrs. Myricks.

"We walked up to this guy," says Cerretto, "and we didn't even get a chance to ask him to leave. He started yelling and resisting and swinging. The next thing, we were all on the ground, Bacon and me and the guy. We put the cuffs on him.

Crowd Dancing

"But this crowd that was dancing and enjoying itself turned on us. They yelled for us to take off the cuffs and let the guy go. They wedged between us. Two plainclothesmen who were at the end of Nassau Street on Joseph Avenue came from their car to help us. They were Dan Funk and Sal Arnone. Then everything let loose. Either Dan or Sal, I don't know which, got back and radioed for help."

It was 11:38 p.m., Friday, July 25, 1964, the minute, the hour, the day, the date, the year that thriving, comfortable Rochester learned how a riot is born.

Rochester, New York's third largest city, was little more than a lonely mill in a swamp when it was settled in 1812. Today the most familiar landmark is the Eastman Kodak building. It is pointed out to any visitor. Rochesterians invariably mention the high-grade industries like Bausch and Lomb Optics, General Dynamics Corp., Taylor Instruments.

Historic City

Rochester was the birthplace of Susan B. Anthony, champion of women's rights. The city gave Negro abolitionist Frederick Douglass a safe harbor for 17 years during which he published "The North Star."

But there is no time for history in the birth of a riot.

This one was born with the arrest of Randy Manigulat, 20, a young man officer Cerretto says belonged to a group called the "Upsetters." His role was brief and directionless. Hardly anyone knew his name.

It wasn't known to Doris Wilson, 29, who was visiting friends in the Clarissa Avenue section, a Negro area.

Nor to Johnny Moore, who said he didn't know how it all happened but that something was happening among his people.

Rumors Fly

The communication system of a riot is rumor. Rumor moves faster than any electronic device. It jumps rivers and walls and buildings. It has a music: sirens. It has a color: red, for the blood on men's hands.

That call for help put through by Funk or Arnone brought cars with sirens and lights.

Rocks and stones and old brick from a large empty lot on Joseph Avenue near Nassau Street greeted the squads. Men and boys and women and girls jeered and swore at police. Wire trash baskets sailed from the crowd to land on the officers.

Several K-9 Corps teams arrived. Two dogs were taken from the vehicles. This was just before midnight. Alma Griggs, who was two miles away in a cafe-bar, later said it was at midnight she heard that a little girl was bitten by a K-9 dog.

The mob reached a new fury. Broken bottles littered the street and 50 police faced perhaps 500 persons. All of the action was centered at the intersection of Joseph Avenue and Nassau Street. The riot was 27 minutes old.

White Persons

A little after 1 a.m., on Saturday, Police Chief William Lombard's car was turned over and set afire.

The looting began. Nusbaum's department store at 221 Joseph Avenue was smashed. And Suskind's and Terry's shoes and Rabin's clothing. Then the word went beyond the confines of downtown Rochester, to the suburbs of Brighton and Pittsford, where owners of the shops or their friends or relatives live.

Two hours passed. Time enough for the word to have spread like a typhus. A crowd of whites blossomed between the New York Central station and the U.S. Post Office. On one side of the street were the whites; Negroes on the other. Fire trucks arrived. So did police from Brighton and Greece. The hoses stiffened with the pressure of water and the threat of a race riot was crushed.

Senseless Scene

What end did this serve? This is the question.

But a riot needs no end except to be what it is. And Negroes trying to explain it to themselves as well as others came to the same conclusion: that frustration and bitterness are reason enough for violence.

Anyone who tried to impose reason quickly learned this.

Father Michael of the Ethiopian Orthodox Church was booed and threatened when he tried to reason with people.

Maxwell I. Walters, Negro supervisor of the 7th Ward, said "I've talked to them. I talked everyone I could all night. They cursed at me when I told them to go home and get off the streets."

A 275-pound Negro who got into a police sound truck and pleaded with people to "go home" was told, "You go home, Uncle Tom."

After two nights, there scarcely was a street in any of the Negro areas that did not show scars of violence.

On Sunday afternoon, there came a spectacle so sickening that it was felt that this might sober men and bring sense to them. A helicopter used to observe riot areas hit a Negro dwelling, plunged to the side, building afire. The pilot was killed and so were two persons in the house.

But Sunday night brought no respite.

The riot finally did come to its tired end, spent by the energy of its own fury, and the plain fact that there was nothing to win, either at the beginning or the end.

Hormones Thought To be Pushbuttons Determining Activity

BY ALTON BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—A German scientist today reported evidence about how many hormones do their wondrous work.

He finds they may be chemical pushbuttons that call forth only particular bits of all the inherited "wisdom" contained in all living cells.

Dr. Ulrich Clever of the Max Planck Institute in Stubingen, Germany, told the sixth International Congress of Biochemistry about experiments touching upon two fundamental mysteries of life.

Potent Effects

One mystery is precisely how hormones—such as those from the adrenal and sex glands—have their very potent effects even though they are produced in only very tiny amounts.

The other concerns the controls over the genetic machinery of living cells.

Every cell in your body contains exactly the same total amount of genetic information or wisdom. Scientists think now that this knowledge is carried in a "code" ofr nucleis acids—known as DNA—making up a long string of thousands of "words" or genes to instruct the cell what to do and what to be.

Different cells obviously take up different jobs—to become stomach or liver or nerve or hair cells, for example—because they act upon only part of the total information in the code, or act upon part of that total wisdom only at certain times.

Chain of Information

The "instructions" from any particular part of the DNA chain of information are thought to be carried out from the nucleus or heart of the cell to its production factories. This apparently is done by another chemical, known as messenger-RNA, which is formed by being in close contact with some part of the DNA chain.

Experimenting with tiny insects—midges—Dr. Clever finds that a bit of a steroid hormone, ecdysone, causes swellings or "puffs" at two points along the DNA chain or chromozone.

The more hormone he gives the larger the puffs become. When he quits giving the hormone, the puffs disappear.

Molting Process

The ecdysone hormone—which controls the molting process in these insects—seemed to "switch on" two genes or points along the total, complex chain, leaving the rest unchanged.

The evidence indicates that some hormones may actually do their work inside the nucleus of a cell through specific effects upon the genetic machinery there, he said.

The ultimate controls for the molting process in these insects are in the DNA of the cells. But the hormone could be the pushbutton that turns on the "correct" sections of the DNA chain at the right time.

Marilyn Gosz Places First in Music Festival

SHERWOOD — Miss Marilyn Gosz, route 1, Menasha, added another trophy to her collection, Saturday, when she placed first in the artists division of the state accordion contest, held at the Schroeder Hotel, Milwaukee.

The sixteen-year-old accordionist was first place state winner in 1961 and 1962 in the amateur division and is the youngest state winner in the artists class.

She has been a perennial winner in the Northeastern Wisconsin Music Festival and placed first in the Chicagoland Music Festival. Recently she took part in the National Olympics Contest, a preliminary to the World contest.

Intense Feeling Sensed Among U. S. Voters

Johnson Appears Prepared for Anything That Goldwater Might Insert as Issue

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — From the way President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater have been talking, you can get the impression the presidential campaign is going to be on a high plane, more or less. But this may not last long since neither man can predict or control the future.

Goldwater himself, in the midst of saying he would not make any personal attacks on Johnson and would campaign solely on the issues, told a news conference: "Oh, I think you'll find some brickbats flying around all over the place."

And Johnson is apparently prepared for anything that happens, while so far being bland about it all, for he told a news conference: "Most campaigns are rough campaigns and I'm an old campaigner. I've been at it 30 years."

This gives him more than twice the campaign experience of Goldwater because he was in Congress more than twice as long.

He never batted an eye—in public, that is—to Goldwater's charge that he is a "faker" and a "phony" and seemed to be trying to brush aside any thought he might retaliate in kind.

He said of his 30 years of campaigning: "One of the first things I learned—at least, as far as I'm concerned—the people are not much interested in my personal opinion of my opponent.

"The American people will make their judgments on the very statements that he may make from time to time."

There are plenty of other brickbats if Johnson won't, although it remains to be seen if he won't, particularly if Goldwater flings them.

Running Mate

And if Goldwater won't, his running mate for the vice presidency, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, probably will since Miller has been described as a gut-fighter, a "wiry rooster" with "nothing namby-pamby about him."

It can't be forgotten that Goldwater said one of the main issues in the campaign is the "scandal hanging over the White House." Somebody, if not Goldwater, is going to have to talk about it, since he called it an issue.

If a guess had to be made, this seems the likely one: this is going to be rougher than any campaign in memory if only because the intensity of feeling among Americans themselves seems so deep.

Voter Feeling

There was hardly deep feeling among voters over the 1960 race between Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon. They weren't so far apart in their views. It was a personality contest.

It marks the most clear-cut division—which is what Goldwater said he wanted to provide anyway—between American conservatives and those of more liberal views and between those who are against big government and those who consider it a necessity in the middle of the 20th century.

The lines have already hardened on both sides and if anyone doubts it all he has to do is talk to a dozen people and listen to the intensity of their feelings.

There was no such intensity before or even during the two campaigns between Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson.

In addition to this all the unpredictables—like the turn of events at home and abroad, particularly if they're violent—could make this whole campaign boil.

Georgia Ordered Not To Put Racial Curbs On Island Lots Sale

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A federal judge, in an opinion of possible far-reaching significance, has enjoined the State of Georgia from racial discrimination in the sale, lease or other disposal of property on state-owned Jekyll Island.

The injunction, issued Monday by Judge Frank A. Hooper, makes it possible for Negroes to lease homesites on the island, once a retreat for some of the nation's wealthiest families.

Ben W. Fortson Jr., chairman of the Jekyll Island Authority, said about 400 homesites are available now for lease.

The normal homesite lease is 40 years, Fortson said, with 10-year renewal periods after that. The court injunction does not cover those presently holding leases from the state, but only concerns future disposals of property.

Castro Is Hurting

The invitation extended some 25 American newspaper reporters by Fidel Castro to visit Cuba "with free access to all parts of the country" provides an interesting background to the action of the Organization of American States last week in voting tough economic and diplomatic sanctions against Cuba.

Fifteen of the 20 OAS members voted the sanctions. Chile, Mexico and Uruguay voted against them. Bolivia abstained, and Venezuela, which requested them, was ineligible to vote. The sanctions will be binding on all OAS nations, but there was no deadline set for compliance.

The sanctions call for suspension of all trade by the American republics with Cuba, except in foods, medicines and medical equipment; suspension of all sea transportation, and a total break in all diplomatic and consular relations.

The OAS action was a direct result of Castro's unsuccessful attempt last year to unseat the Venezuelan government of President Romulo Betancourt. His most ambitious venture in Latin American infiltration thus has come back to haunt him.

The correspondents who visited Cuba also testify to the fact that Castro is having lots of problems domestically. Cuba's sugar crop last year hit an all-time low, and it is expected to be about the same this year. Sugar prices have dropped from 13 cents a little over a year ago to five cents. Over-all Cuban farm production is down 20 per cent from pre-Castro levels and industrial production down 25 per cent. Castro is depending almost entirely on the Soviet bloc for foreign trade.

Castro's invitation to American newspapermen and other signs indicate that he would like to sell coexistence to the United States. And yet he is caught in a real box, because for political reasons he cannot give up his program of subversion in South and Central America and for economic reasons he can't loosen his tight ties with Russia.

Particularly in this campaign year he certainly cannot hope for any softening in the U. S. attitude. The opposite is more likely to be true. Barry Goldwater is expected to campaign hard for even further reprisals against Cuba.

And now that Castro seems to be at least whispering "uncle" it's certainly no time to ease up on the pressure.

Relocating the State Fair

Discussion about relocation of the Wisconsin State Fair and the type of production it should be has waged for years. A news story detailing fair officials' interest in a possible site near Racine has bruised anew an already sore spot.

Fair associations throughout the state have complained in recent years of waning attendance. The state fair has been no different.

Historically fairs were the highlight of the season in rural areas where country folk showed their wares and visited. A shifting economy has changed that to some extent. Fairs today promote the grandstand shows and midway attractions to draw crowds from city and urban areas.

The state fair no doubt is considering population and gate potential in its search for a new location. But, the Wisconsin State Fair is for all in the Badger area. Youths of 4-H clubs and farmers throughout the state still look forward to competition at the fair. The climax of 4-H project work is to be selected to attend state fair competition.

Southeastern Wisconsin is mighty far from Superior, Eau Claire, Wausau, La Crosse or even the Fox Valley. Southeastern Wisconsin is not geographically the center of the state by any means. It may have population but other areas are burgeoning, such as the Fox Valley, and may deserve consideration.

The state fair is for all—not Milwaukee or Chicago alone.

A Good Parking Commission

Mayor Clarence Mitchell's appointments to Appleton's new Parking Commission should meet with full approval of the Common Council when they come up for confirmation at the next meeting.

Establishment of the Commission to operate Appleton's "big business" parking meter and off-street parking program is another significant progressive stride for the community.

Mitchell will serve as chairman of the five-man Commission, which also consists of Alds. Robert Stumpf (9th) and Alvin Tews (5th) and Businessmen W. A. Close and Willard Johnson. Advisory members will be City Planner-Traffic Engineer Walter Rasmussen and Finance Director Donald Hassler.

The mayor exercised good judgment in making the selections he did. There appears to be no doubt that the Commission will be an important unit within the municipal government structure.

Mitchell, Stumpf and Tews have had considerable experience in local government. With Stumpf also serving as chairman of the council's Public Safety Committee, his selection is logical and will make for good liaison.

Rasmussen is well versed with the city's parking problems and its potential as one of the most important business hubs in Wisconsin north of Milwaukee. Because the Commission will be handling parking funds and expenditures the presence of the finance director makes for good sense.

Close and Johnson, representing Appleton's retail business community, have been active in civic affairs for years and are abreast of local happenings. Both have shown a keen interest in municipal government and making Appleton grow.

With this lineup of members, we are confident the Parking Commission will make a valuable contribution to the City of Appleton.

Just a Totem

Dr. Spock may be the final authority for the parents of small children but a man named Dr. Speck may become a resource for the treatment of animals.

Dr. Speck is not a veterinarian although a report written by him was recently published in the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association. Dr. Speck is a psychiatrist and also an assistant professor at the Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia.

The neuroses of his patients often show up in their pets, writes Dr. Speck. "In working with disturbed families who have pets, it has been our repeated observation that the pet can become ill and, if the disturbance in the family does not subside, may often die." This is particularly true of dogs and cats but pet birds also often become excited and upset if there is tension in the household. "The pets often seem to reflect the feelings of the family. For instance, if the family is angry at me, the pet is apt to be unfriendly also . . . I have noticed repeatedly that an angry, friendly or indifferent session can be predicted by the way the dogs or cats greet me at the front door when I arrive at the home."

The information is useful to veterinarians, writes Dr. Speck. "For instance, a veterinarian who gets bitten by the pet he is treating might in some instances expect that the owner is going to give trouble also." Veterinarians have noticed, he said, "that peculiar and difficult clients have peculiar and difficult pets."

A pet's role in the family dates back into early history of man. "In primitive man totemism was a device used to control and conceal sexual and aggressive drives within the family. The pet is for civilized man what the totem animal was for the primitive. The pet represents a protector, a talisman against the fear of death."

So now something we have dourly suspected turns out to have some scientific backing. That Great Dane down the block who digs up the best tulips in the flower bed every spring really is just acting out his owner's unconscious jealousy of his neighbor's garden. The cat that yowls on the back fence till dawn indicates that his owner would like to be out with the boys only his wife won't let him. And if a dinner guest is greeted at the door by a fusillade of ferocious barks he can be sure that there is something more than a desire for his company behind the invitation.

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for July 28, 1864.

The New York Herald's Niagara Falls dispatch says Horace Greeley, accompanied by Mr. Hay, private secretary to President Lincoln, have had an interview with George N. Sanders, now a Confederate Commissioner and long a naval officer of the port of New York, and others claiming to be rebel commissioners.

The commissioners wanted to visit Washington, and receiving the terms upon which such a visit might be made, the terms were accepted.

The Commercial's Niagara Falls correspondent states "Sanders has left for Washington with a proposition to the effect that, if Mr. Lincoln will publish a proclamation of armistice with a call for a convention of all the States, the South will agree to it, and come to the convention."

The Times' special says Col. Jacques of the 73rd Illinois Volunteers, and Edmund Kirk, by permission of President Lincoln, visited Jefferson Davis at Richmond, and had an interview with the latter on the state of the country.

The dispatch says they were kindly treated, but of course, says nothing of the results of the interview.

Majority forces in the Wisconsin Senate passed a bill 18 to 8 for a separate motor vehicle department. The measure, introduced and revised by Sen. K. R. White, River Falls Republican, was to divest the secretary of state of his current jurisdiction over auto licensing and consolidate that function with vehicle regulatory duties of four other state departments. Secretary Fred R. Zimmerman protested the change, but the measure passed over his protest.

LaVerne Scheidermayer was awarded first prize in the Kaukauna Kamera Klub's first picture contest. Other winners included Mildred Hess and Quadine Zilles. The subject of the pictures was moonlight on water and the winners were polled by popular vote of club members.

Robert Smith, clarinetist and first place winner in the national high school music contest, was to be the featured soloist with the 120th Field Artillery Band at the weekly Pierce Park band concert. Clarence Kriesa, director of the Kaukauna High School Band, was to be guest conductor for the program.

People Read Not With Eyes But With Their Prejudices

BY MAX FREEDMAN

Freedman

Some days ago James Reston of the New York Times wrote a column deploring the bitterness and ugliness of his mail. It is safe to say that every commentator in Washington can tell pretty much the same story. The stream of abuse has grown far worse since the Republican convention. The letters now are filled with savage hatred.

My complaint is not against the abuse. Perhaps journalists, like politicians, should grow a thick hide. What worries me is the utter contempt revealed in these letters for the facts.

It has grown aggressively familiar to find that people, in the famous phrase of Wendell Phillips, are reading not with their eyes but with their prejudices. The Democrats see only the passages favorable to their cause, and the Goldwaterites blaze up in a passion at something critical of their man. This frame of mind is traditionally associated with the closing days of a campaign. Yet here we are, long and perilous months from voting day, and the fraudulent coinage of political hate is already in vigorous circulation.

CALLED "SLOUCHING BEAST"

A letter writer who is obviously well educated and civilized describes Senator Goldwater as a "slouching beast" eager to grasp power in Washington. What produces this desperate nonsense?

We know something about Senator Goldwater in Washington. We have watched him in action for years. We know that he dwells in the margin of the Senate's life. If you want a measure passed, you would be unwise to ask him to sponsor it or to speak for it, for he usually ends up with the forlorn minority, especially if he has deep convictions on the matter. He is less than overwhelming as a senator, less than persuasive as a symbol.

The most important fact about Senator Goldwater is not that he has launched a great career but that he is teasing the nation with an essential puzzle.

Without dominating intellectual gifts, with the most doubtful assets on the platform, Senator Goldwater can yet have an impact on the public mind that would bring credit to an acknowledged statesman. How can this paradox be explained?

The beginning of wisdom, it seems to me, is to ask this question not in derision but with profound disquiet. For we are guilty of self-inflicted error if we think of Senator Goldwater as a beast or a Fascist, as a reckless adventurer unafraid of nuclear war or as a ruthless strategist eager to profit from the base arts of political cynicism. Senator Goldwater is really a very decent and very limited man who wants to be President even though he lacks most of the essential qualifications for that exalted office.

BEWILDERED MAN?

At the center of the storm now sweeping the country stands an inadequate and bewildered man. If the strength of Goldwater does not account for the popularity of Goldwaterism, then we must accept a conclusion with vast consequences for the election. It is that Senator Goldwater, by luck or intuition or philosophy, has been able to touch deep anxieties in the public mind to which millions of Americans make an urgent response. If this analysis has any merit, it follows that the power of Goldwaterism will not be destroyed by personall criticism of the senator. It will begin to crumble only as we prove that Senator Goldwater cannot answer many of the questions which he himself raises, and that his doctrine cannot minister to the anxieties to which it brings the delusive promise of lasting solace. But thus far no one in the political arena has even begun this difficult and complicated analysis, and no more than a faltering beginning has been attempted in the press.

It also follows of course that it is completely self-defeating to denounce all those now attracted to Senator Goldwater as children of darkness or servants of evil. They do not deserve this abuse, and an election conducted in these terms will produce a nation divided and vindictive rather than a nation which has purged and cleansed its political ills by the saving procedures of a general election.

Too many of us have been content to sneer at Senator Goldwater and to shout at his followers, without understanding his hopes or their fears. opponents of Senator Goldwater's candidacy, of whom I certainly am one, should now begin to dissect the roots of his popular appeal and the vague disquiet which now troubles so many voters. Goldwaterism, in short, is a thousand times more interesting than Senator Goldwater himself, and offers more rewards for patient exploration.

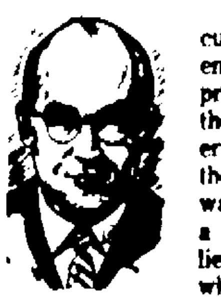
Republicans Adopting Democratic Tactics in Criticizing Reporters

BY JOHN WYNGAARD



Wyngaard

MADISON — Here is one reporter who heard and observed the resentful comments at San Francisco about the American press with more equanimity than many who attended the Republican national convention.

It is quite true that the white badge signifying press credentials at the Cow Palace and environs two weeks ago brought some heckling and some indignant stares from a good many of delegates and especially the women present. There is obviously a deep conviction among many practicing Republicans that the average journalist has become a critic rather than a reporter and that he intends to judge GOP events and purposes through a filter of his own liberal-leaning prejudices.

Whatever the legitimacy of such beliefs and suspicions, it is useful to remember that there is nothing especially novel about such reactions of the professional politicians toward the journeyman in journalism.

My own experience in Wisconsin reporting has encompassed similar grudges in all of the political parties that have operated here in modern times.

IN THE BEGINNING

If the reader will pardon a personal experience illustration, these reports on Wisconsin political affairs were begun during the era of Progressive Party rule in this state.

Young Philip LaFollette was governor and was campaigning for re-election. He was a vigorous, intelligent, thoroughly sophisticated practitioner of the political art. Successor politicians from Joe McCarthy to John Reynolds learned more about campaign techniques from LaFollette and the other members of his famous family than they were ever willing to admit. My first and strongest impression of La Follette on the stump came out of a rally at the old red gymnasium on the University of Wisconsin campus when he launched a long and angry speech with a brutal and contemptuous denunciation of the working reporters who came to cover the meeting.

I didn't know it then, as a cub, but I learned quickly enough that this was standard procedure for the man who then dominated the most powerful political organization in the state. The newspaperman was an ink-stained hireling, a craven wage slave writing lies and distortions under the whip of a reactionary publisher.

Such experiences were repeated as the cycle of political party success and failure developed.

DEMS, GOP TOO

When the Democratic Party showed signs of renascence a decade or so ago, the theme was the same. If there was any difference, it was in the direction of more general criticism. Reporters were no longer singled out, but the cry of "one party press" ranged from one corner of the state to the other as the first candidates of the rebuilt Democratic Party sought office unsuccessfully after the demise of the Progressive Party.

Such men as Gaylord Nelson, the first modern Democrat to win the governorship, later related with some surprise that they got a fair break from the newspapers, in spite of the prejudices they had inherited from their formative environment.

Today it is the turn of the Republicans. Many typical Wisconsin Republican politicians have a deep reserve about the working reqporter. Some of them try to disguise it, without success. Every reporter who has eyes to see knows what they feel. The San Francisco incidents were noteworthy or different only because they got national notice.

A reporter with perspective doesn't especially worry about such matters. A self-respecting newspaperman or newspaper, indeed, prbably ought to worry a little when there isn't an occasional grumble from the ranks of the political professionals. Their functions and their purposes are intrinsically at odds. The newspaperman can feel most comfortable when he is doing the best he knows how and rubs politicians in both parties the wrong way occasionally.

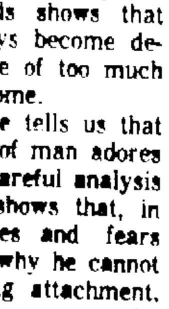
Common Sense Alone Is Often Not Enough

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS



Harris

It may be true that not enough people use common sense; but it is also true that many people are content to use their common sense and nothing more. It is not enough.

Common sense tells us that the gambler has a desperate need to win — but clinical research shows that, behind this, he has a compelling drive to lose everything.

Common sense tells us that most boys become delinquent because of too little discipline at home — but investigation of court records shows that many more boys become delinquent because of too much strictness at home.

Common sense tells us that Don Juan type of man adores women — but careful analysis of such cases shows that, in fact, he despises and fears them, which is why he cannot form any lasting attachment, and must use women as victims rather than as love-objects. Moreover, the Don Juan is often concealing (from himself) hidden homosexual tendencies beneath his amorous sorties.

Common sense tells us that the nervous strains and tension of big city life induce mental breakdowns — but statistical studies show that a greater proportion of patients in mental hospitals come from rural areas.

Common sense also tells us that crime is more rampant in big cities — but the Federal Uniform Crime Reports show that larceny is the only major crime in which the city leads the country; rural areas have more burglary per population, as much auto theft, more robbery, twice as many aggravated assaults, almost four times as much rape, and more than three times as much murder and manslaughter.

Common sense tells us that the wives of drunkards, or brutes, or idlers, are "innocent victims" of their husbands' bad habits — but pychiatric examination shows that, in most cases, such women have purposely (if unconsciously) chosen their mates in order to be hurt by them, and have a need to be neglected, shamed and abused by a man they have to care for like a willful baby.

Common sense belongs to subjects — to the surface world of touch and taste and sight and sound, to what can be weighed and counted and measured by the gross perceptions. In the uncommonly complex area of the human mind and human conduct, a resolute dedication to common sense is most likely to lead us irrevocably into the wildest nonsense.

Lawrence Says

Europeans Take Sides In American Politics

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Many high officials and several newspapers in Europe have begun to meddle in American political affairs as they take sides publicly on the attitude of the presidential candidates on questions of American foreign policy. But this is only a smokescreen to divert attention from the tragic manner in which Great Britain and France have failed to back up the United States in southeast Asia.

Scores of American boys are being killed and the lives of many thousands of United States troops in Viet Nam are being endangered by Communist guerrillas who are being supplied arms and ammunition by Red China. Yet the Peking government has recently been recognized by General de Gaulle of France, while the British continue their diplomatic relations with the Communist Chinese. Instead of joining in a trade and diplomatic embargo, the European governments are seeking increased trade with Red China, which inevitably will help to bolster its economy.

OAS Action

In contrast, the Organization of American States in this hemisphere has just decided on diplomatic and economic measures designed to isolate Communist Cuba. This is the kind of international co-operation which could change the whole course of the "cold war" if the European governments wholeheartedly joined such an effort in Asia.

The European critics are mistaken in their widely publicized fear that the political campaign in this country is related in any important way to possible changes in American foreign policy. There is no essential difference between the viewpoint of the Republican and Democratic parties in their earnest desire to see peace maintained with all nations. But there is discussion in this country as to whether the European type of appeasement — which helped bring on World War II — might, if applied today, result in another world conflict. Senator Goldwater, for example, insists that firmness and resoluteness are vital and that a craven attitude can bring on war. President Johnson has again and again expressed the same sentiment.

Europe Concerned

But the Europeans are concerned lest the United States apply some of its firmness in Europe by insisting that Great Britain and France join an economic and diplomatic embargo not only against Cuba but also against Red China.

A United Press International dispatch from Saigon has just revealed the sad story of how American military forces in South Viet Nam are being handicapped by the Red Chinese. It reads as follows:

"Saigon — Communist China has stepped up its military aid to the Viet Cong guerrillas in embattled South Viet Nam. According to a government white paper just published here. The 181-page report, entitled 'Communist Aggression Against the Republic of Viet Nam,' said, 'It is particularly the aid from Communist China that has daily increased the murderous violence of this aggression.'

"The report said: 'Evidence exists that considerable sums of money, large amounts of arms and equipment of every kind are sent secretly from the Communist countries to South Viet Nam . . .the Peking government gives tangible proof of its aggressive policies by supplying increasing quantities of the latest type of heavy arms made in Communist China.' "

Chinese Weapons

The report lists types of Red Chinese weapons captured in South Viet Nam. These include not only anti-tank bazookas but heavy machine guns for anti-aircraft use and other weapons that have "greatly increased the fire power of the Communist troops in South Viet Nam."

It was the Red Chinese who, in the latter part of 1950, entered the Korean War in support of the Communist-inspired aggression there. The Soviet government openly boasted it supplied the arms which were used against the United Nations forces. Talk of general disarmament and of "neutralization" of Laos is, therefore, purposeless as long as aid is given by both the Soviets and Red Chinese to Military forces which threaten the independence of smaller nations of the world in Asia, in Africa and in Latin America.

Trade Boycotts

The device of employing trade boycotts or arms embargoes has been repeatedly suggested to Britain and France, but the businessmen of those countries evidently have enough influence to prevent their respective governments from interfering with money - making even if Americans are being killed in southeast Asia with arms being supplied by Red China

The idea of developing trade and diplomatic relations with Red China has the support of some "liberals" in this country, too, but it is basic in the tactics of almost all of the ruling parties in Europe today. This is what is alienating American public opinion. If Senator Goldwater does gain political strength on foreign policy questions, it will be largely due to resentment among the people of the United States over the manner in which Britain and France have isolated themselves from a fundamental principle of American policy—that freedom-loving nations should make every sacrifice to present a united front against Communist aggression.

Delegates May Be Happy With Humphrey

Sure to Support Johnson Choice As Running Mate

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Although Wisconsin s delegation to the Democratic National Convention a month hence is sure to support whomever President Lyndon B Johnson picks for a running mate, most of its leaders think the 60 delegates would be 'happiest with Humphrey "

Sen Hubert H Humphrey of Minnesota, the majority whip in the Senate frequently has been referred to in the state as Wisconsin s third senator, and as a favorite son once-removed

Humphrey not only has held most of the supporters who gave him four of the state s 10 districts in his game but losing fight with then-Sen John F Kennedy during the 1960 primary campaign, but has won many friends among the late President s following in the years since

State Convention

The Democratic state convention last month headed off any organized effort on behalf of a vice presidential candidate by passing a resolution pledging support and full confidence' for any man Johnson selects

Among a dozen top Democrats on the delegation, however Humphrey was the only name mentioned when a question of personal preference was answered

Democratic State Chairman Louis Hanson of Mellen said, "We in northeastern Wisconsin grew up on Humphrey ' He said he believes Minnesota s senior senator has broad appeal to minority groups in the state, to labor and to Midwestern farmers

David Carley of Madison, the national committeeman - elect, said he considers Humphrey the "most mature and capable man" Democrats have for vice president He added that he would "feel safest for Humphrey" in case something happened to President Johnson

— The immediate appointment by the mayor of a representative independent civilian complaint review board with subpoena power to deal primarily with charges of police brutality

"He pointed me out Rivera said stating that I as a Puerto Rican police officer should be aware of the subjugation of Puerto Ricans by the United States that I should choose a side in regards to fighting the cops

Another patrolman testified that at a meeting at Epton s headquarters Epton said If there was any opposition it should not be dealt with on the avenue but the police should be sucked into the sidestreets where they should be bombarded with missiles '

Predicts Continuity Of U. S. Foreign Policy Regardless of Election

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undersecretary of State George W Ball predicts continuity of current U.S. foreign policy after the November presidential election

'The American people are satisfied with the broad lines" of that policy, Ball said Monday night in a radio interview taped for the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co.

He added that they "will see to it that this same policy continues to be followed and. they will make this intention known next November at the polls "

Ball said the State Department is taking no action toward asking U.S. allies to refrain from comment on the presidential campaign

Some Air Force Projects Found To be Unessential

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional watchdog agency has challenged the Air Force's designation of the parking lot next to the officers swimming pool at Andrews Air Force Base Md as essential and urgently needed in the interest of self-defense '

The General Accounting Office said in a report Monday that the parking lot isn t essential at all and that the classification is merely a screen used to build the lot without congressional approval

The GAO also cited such projects as a golf course a riding stable and a pet hospital as it accused the Air Force of using funds to build projects without congressional approval and demanded that the Air Force discipline the individuals responsible

The Air Force said 'some of the problems disclosed by the audit report appear to have resulted primarily from unintended interpretations of directives and regulations in effect at the time the work was accomplished

It said it is revising its construction directives and believes this will solve the problem

—More troop-carrying helicopters, flare-dropping planes and personnel to keep them flying

The communique said the new aid was "to assist the Vietnamese government in its pacification program' —not for an assault against North Viet Nam

Khanh's government has been pushing for a border offensive against the Communist Viet Cong, and several Vietnamese military leaders have proposed attacks on North Viet Nam

South Viet Nam has an army of 200,000 and a 200,000-man paramilitary force The Viet Cong is believed to have about 80,000 fighters Guerrilla experts estimate that it takes at least 10 soldiers to cope with one guerrilla

The new commander of American forces in the Pacific, Adm Ulysses S Grant Sharp, told newsmen today he doubts events are leading to a general war in Asia and that he is optimistic about progress in South Viet Nam

Arrives in Saigon

Sharp arrived in Saigon today to confer with Lt Gen William C Westmoreland, U S commander in Viet Nam, and ' to see what we can do better and to see what more we can do "

U S forces in Viet Nam now include about 10,000 Army men about 5 000 Air Force about 750 Navy and about 500 Marines

May Assign Transports

There was speculation that the boost in aircraft strength might mean the assignment of more C123 transport planes The C123 a propeller-driven plane designed especially for landings and takeoff on short fields has proved particularly valuable in supply and other missions in the war against the Viet Cong in widely scattered and remote places

In addition to work at military assistance headquarters and in schools a major mission of the U S Navy contingent is working with the small craft patrols of the Vietnamese in running down junks and sampans carrying supplies for the guerrillas

Navy personnel both officers and enlisted men go out on the patrolling craft to advise on tactics and to check up on the performance of Vietnamese who have been trained in antismuggling work at schools ashore

The task of patrolling both the 1,200-mile coastline and the scores of rivers which empty into the sea is immense It is estimated that more than 4,000 inspections are made each day

Training and advisory staff members who have returned from duty in Viet Nam say the major problem is intercepting shipment of supplies from hidden bases in South Viet Nam to other bases or prospective points of operation by Viet Cong

Castro dwelt at length, however, on the chance of improving relations with the United States

'We have no resentment against the American people, he said It would be stupidity not to be willing to discuss our differences

Prepared to Wait

If there is willingness, a way will be found We want to discuss but are not in any hurry, and we are prepared not to have diplomatic and commercial relations with the United States for the next 20 years

Commenting on the U S political scene, Castro said, both past Republican and current Democratic administrations have been bad for us " and the choice between President Johnson and Sen Barry Goldwater will be between "bad and worse "

Juanito Castro the prime minister's 31-year-old sister who defected from Cuba last month, asked Monday night for political assylum in Mexico She was assured she would be allowed to stay there Miss Castro has charged that Fidel abandoned the aims of his revolution and turned Cuba over to communism

'WHERE'S MY NEWSPAPER?'

When a newspaper is missing, more often than not, a man will say, "Where's my newspaper?" "My," not "the"! You've heard him say many times: "Now, my newspaper said . . ." "I read in my paper . . ."

A man's possessive about his newspaper. He takes pride in it. He gloats when his newspaper praises his favorite political candidate or sports team. Or, he groans when his newspaper differs with his choice of personalities or issues. He'll even write the editor when he feels strongly about a difference of opinion.

And, his wife feels just about the same. She looks forward to reading her pet features. Missing out on some ad or choice item of local news could "ruin" her shopping trip or leave her feeling left out during the chitchat over the bridge table.

Both men and women want their newspaper. In fact, they insist on it. They are sorely disappointed and disturbed when their newspaper isn't on the front step when they want it. Ask any carrier boy. He can tell you, because he hears about it if a delivery is late or missed.

This loyalty to a favorite newspaper didn't just happen. It came about because the newspaper is localized to meet a particular want and fill a definite need.

And, because the newspaper is viewed as a necessary companion and source of information, it makes a big difference in the lives of people of all ages, of all faiths and political preferences, of all levels of income and education.

'Super Americans' In TV Miracle World

Fabulous World of Wonder Only Fiction as Yet; There's Hope

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There are days when I would like to be one of the super Americans.

The super Americans are the people you see pictured in television commercials and magazine advertising.

The world they dwell in is not the world I live in. It is a far, far better world. It is a veritable wonderland.

The thing that makes the world of the super Americans superior to the commonplace world you and I inhabit is that, when they have a problem, some kindly person tells them of a product to buy that will solve it, and they live happily forever and ever.

Few Favorites

I have been watching the wonderful world of the super Americans on television for some years now, and here are a few of my favorite characters:

The guy taking a shower with a new kind of soap and looking so happy you feel sure there must be a mermaid tickling his feet.

The freckle-faced kid who brushes his teeth with a toothpaste that saves him from 34 per cent of the cavities that fall to the dumber kids.

$5.95 Miracle

The girl who bulges like an elephant, but when she puts on a $5.95 girdle immediately turns into a gazelle.

The lean fellow on horseback who gets such deep masculine pleasure out of his cigarettes—and never, never breaks into a hacking smoker's cough.

The rollicking lads with the big foamy steins of beer, who go on endlessly drinking in a bar where the waiter never seems to bring a bill.

The comfortable housewives who get a new lease on life every time they find a new can of something that will take the stain out of their kitchen sink, or a box of something else that magically makes their laundry whiter than white.

Wallflower Blooms

The homely male wallflower who becomes an irresistible Romeo merely by switching from one brand of hair-goo to another, or by employing a new kind of dandruff remover.

The lovely young girl who gets promoted at the office, lands the man of her dreams, and even improves her bowling score—all because her girl friend tipped her off about a new deodorant that enables her to feel cooler than cool.

Such are the super Americans, and the happy world in which they flourish—a world in which for every problem there is a ready and available solution. All you have to do is buy a certain product—and usually it cost "only a few cents more" at most.

Don't Knock Wonders

Some people knock this world of the super Americans. They say it is merely a souped-up fairyland of advertising illusion.

But not me. All I know is that it is a far better world than the glum one I wade through day after day, and the people in it are more joyous and carefree.

So far I haven't stumbled across a kitchen sink cleanser that will relieve me of my habitual melancholy. So far I haven't been wised up to a deodorant—cream, roll-on or spray — that will stir my employer into giving me a merit raise. Heck, I haven't even found a dandruff cure that will turn me into a matinee idol.

Hope for Future

But hope is what makes existence worthwhile, and seeing how fortunate are the super Americans in their wonderland must give us all hope. Perhaps —if we keep on trying and buying— we will, stumble on some new product with that magic new ingredient which will turn our present sordid human journey into a gallop through an earthly paradise.

J. B. McKenzie Heads Theater In Palm Beach

Former Appletonian Associate Producer of Winter Playhouse

Former Appletonian James B. McKenzie, mentor at the Peninsula Players' Fish Creek summer theater, has added another professional playhouse to his ever growing activities in drama production.

Frank J. Hale, producer of the Royal Poinciana Playhouse in Palm Beach, Fla., has announced that McKenzie will become the associate producer of the winter theater now approaching its eighth season.

McKenzie will serve as general manager of the Palm Beach theater during the 1965 winter season beginning Jan. 18, as well as functioning as associate producer. He will be in charge of all creative decisions, according to Hale, and the selection and production of plays are included. He also will supervise the administration of the theater.

McKenzie is a native of Appleton and grew up here. He is the son of Mrs. Basil F. McKenzie, 66 Garden Court.

450 Productions

A specialist in play production, he currently is president of the Producers Managers Co., New York City, one of the largest packagers of stock plays in the United States. He also heads the Council of Stock Theaters, the only organization of star stock houses in the nation. McKenzie has produced more than 450 shows both in New York and for major stock companies outside the city.

Besides being co - producer with his actress-wife Jeanne Bolan of Peninsula Players, Wisconsin's oldest summer theater, McKenzie is president of the Westport Country Playhouse Arts Council, Inc.

McKenzie reports that work already has begun on play selection for the 10-play winter program at the Palm Beach theater.

Playground Leaders in Appleton

A four-year veteran and a "rookie" are conducting activities during the summer months for the Appleton Recreation Department program in Pierce Park.

Peter Ryerson, with four years' experience, has one of the longest tenures with the department. He is working with Karen Voecks, who is working for her first year.

Both are graduates of Appleton High School. Next fall, Ryerson will be a senior at the University of Wisconsin, and Miss Voecks, a freshman at Wisconsin State University-Eau Claire.

Ryerson

Miss Voecks

Ryerson, 21, 1345 W. Rogers Ave., is vice president of his house council at the university and a reporter for the university paper. He plans to enter medical school either at McGill University in Montreal or at Madison.

Miss Voecks, 18, 1210 W. Harris St., was a member of the AHS Pep, Future Teachers, Spanish and Bowling clubs. She plans to be an elementary teacher.
